Mother Love Predominates Even When Murderer's Bullet Strikes

Pathetic Note Attached to Tiny Footwear Shows the Woman's Fear of Death

MOTHER LOVE IS RULING PASSION

Mother love in all its sacred purity predominated even at the instant of death in the turbulent soul of Mrs. Andrew J. Brown, shot down by an assassin's bullet, and the last thought of the woman was for her tiny baby, the little helpless mite of humanity in Oakland, as shown by her death clutch on the tiny pair of baby shoes nestling in her handbag.

Just a little pair of shoes—cheap and inartistic, all she could afford—but typifying affection and the purer side of the woman's nature. Even the dead hands seemed to cling lovingly to the tiny shoes, and when the coroner's deputies arrived to remove the body, the lifeless fingers clung with iron force to the little present purchased out of her small salary for her baby.

It was mother love that lightened her way as she entered the valley of the shadow of death, and the same sacred force caused two callous police and doctors to accord the mute clay more respect than it otherwise would have received.

And in this connection it was babies—four of them—that obtained for three counterfeiter's light sentences: that tempered justice with mercy and softened the judicial heart of the judge when the coiners were brought before him for sentence this morning. Four innocent babies with the three-faced mothers were a weightier argument with the court than all the lawyer's pleas.

And mother love was again exemplified in the case of the woman who alleged that her baby had been held as hostage for a board bill. It was mother love that sent her to the police seeking aid to recover her little one, and it was the same sacred force that softened the heart of the detective chief and caused him to exert himself in the woman's behalf.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Detectives have combed the city in vain for Andrew J. Brown, who is suspected of being the person who fired the shot that night which killed his wife, a bride of two weeks, at Main and Folsom streets.

Detectives investigating the murder discovered facts this morning tending to increase the suspicion of guilt attaching to Andrew Brown, the woman's husband. It was established that Brown had purchased a revolver an hour previous to the shooting from Abe Attill's store on Third street, and that at 5 p. m. he had emptied his safe deposit box in the Western National Metropolitan Bank. He is also known to have obtained a railroad ticket for Tonopah, purchased yesterday by his wife, and he may have taken one of the night train for Nevada.

Tied to a pair of baby's shoes, a pathetic note indicating that she was in fear of death was found in the purse of the slain woman, who had just prior to the shooting been seen in a violent quarrel with a man.

VIOLENT QUARREL

Although the neighborhood was combed immediately after the shooting, no trace could be found of this man up to an early hour this morning.

Brown and his wife had been quarreling bitterly for several days, and BABY HAROLD and the tiny shoes which were found clutched in his murdered mother's hands. A diagram of the shooting is shown on the side.

SAW BABY NIGHT BEFORE MURDER

"She was here only last night. If she'd only stayed, how different things would have been," said Mrs. Barlow, of 1275 Third street, this morning, speaking of Mrs. A. J. Brown, the woman who was murdered on Folsom street last night. "She came out to see the baby yesterday, and I asked her to stay all night, but she said she had to date and left about 7 o'clock. If she'd only stayed—but I suppose it was fate."

So said Mrs. Barlow, with whom the 21-month-old son of Mrs. Brown has been boarded the last year. The pretty brown-eyed baby boy in question played on the floor as she talked, quite unconscious of the tragic happening which has changed his life and unable to understand it if told.

WAS PRETTY WOMAN.

"I first saw Mrs. Brown a year ago, when she brought the baby here. She was a quiet, red-headed woman, small and slight, with lovely fluffy light hair and blue eyes. She was then working as a chambermaid in the Hotel Argus in the city, and had been putting the baby in the Catholic Sisters' day nursery, but she wanted a place where she could leave him all the time, and the sisters sent her to me. She gave her name as Mrs. Main, and the baby as Harold Allen Main. She used to come over to see him often, and always paid his board in advance. I never asked her very many questions, she was so quiet and reticent, but she told me she came from Tonopah. We liked her very much, and ran hardly understood this dreadful thing that has happened."

Mrs. Main, as she was then known, did not stay at the Argus hotel very long after bringing the baby to Mrs. Barlow's, but it was there she met Andrew J. Brown, then day clerk at that hotel. "He was a nice appearing man," said Mrs. Barlow. "Above the medium height, with a pleasant face, blue eyes and brown hair, a little gray at the temples. I liked his looks very much."

WANTED TO ADOPT CHILD.

While she was still at the hotel a Mr. Rogers from a photograph gallery in San Francisco happened to call at Mrs. Barlow's house and was so much taken with the beautiful baby that he offered to adopt it, and it was to him Mrs.

Sorrowing Babies Win Mercy for Counterfeiters

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—A sorrowing wife and four children, all mere babes, the oldest being but 5 years old, softened the heart of Judge De Haven of the United States District Court this morning, and caused him to temper justice with mercy and to administer punishment of only eighteen months in the penitentiary and a fine of $100 to each of the three counterfeiters arrested last January and found guilty yesterday.

The three convicted men—Sam Arena, Salvatore di Cola and Michael Angelo di Vittoria—appeared before the bar of justice promptly at 10 o'clock this morning to receive their sentences. Attorney Ferreri was about to plead for mercy, following the denial of a motion for a new trial, when the court waived him aside and pronounced the exceedingly light judgment.

Arena's wife and four children have been a familiar spectacle in the corridors, and just outside the door of the courtroom throughout the trial, and it was Judge De Haven's desire not to inflict unnecessary torture upon the innocent babes, and to treat all of the counterfeiters alike, which led to the merciful sentence.

The trio will go to Fort Leavenworth tomorrow morning. They operated a complete plant for making spurious coin in a little cottage in the Bernal Heights district and were captured only after a struggle with the police and secret service men.

BERKELEY FIRE LADS MAY STRIKE

Rumor That Wages Are to Be Cut Creates Rebellion in the Ranks.

"Twenty-three for Us" If the Commissioners Act, Declare Men.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Strike feeling runs high among members of the Berkeley fire department following a rumor that the firemen's salaries are to be cut substantially through the efforts of the mayor and commissioners to carry out a policy of retrenchment in expenditures in the various departments.

Nearly a score of employees of the street department, after having been laid off for a short time recently, have been put back to work with a decrease in wages from $2.50 to $2 a day, and it is declared by many of the firemen that they will immediately leave the service should the commissioners in a similar manner attempt to reduce their wages, which at the present time range from $70 per month for a fireman to $110 per month for a battalion chief.

The firemen declare that their wages now are much lower than the pay of those performing similar service in other cities about the bay while support a department the size of the one in this city.

"23" FOR THEM.

"It's '23' for me," exclaimed one after another of the men this morning. "We will all get out if any cut in wages is made by the commissioners. We are paid little enough for our services now and will not stand for any further reduction."

The proposed revision of the wage scale for firemen provides for a minimum monthly salary of $50 instead of $70, placing the members of the department on the same rating as those employed in street work, and this is one of the points to which they strenuously object.

ENTERS NO DENIAL.

R. A. Berry, commissioner of finance and revenue, did not deny today that the officials have seriously contemplated reducing the pay of firemen, and that the matter was taken up at a meeting held the first of the month as reached the ears of those who may be affected.

"The city may be able to get Japs to do the work for still less money," said one fireman today, "but I am certain they cannot get white men to work for any less than they are now getting. A man who starts in as a fireman may be raised to $65 at the end of a year, but further than that there is little prospect for his advancement."

The fire department consists of seven stations distributed over a wide territory, with four men assigned to each station. In all there are about thirty-five men in the department including captains and battalion chiefs. The latter would receive but $100 under the proposed new wage schedule.

DUTIES ARDUOUS.

The firemen have found their duties growing with the city in the past few years. At numerous fires of late the men have had to go long distances to reach the scene and then find that the hose was insufficient in length or that the hydrants were too far removed from the fire to be of much service.

The men believe that going to the difficulty in fighting a fire in remote parts of the city they should be paid more for their services rather than suffer a reduction.

LABOR DISPLAY IN SPAIN IS BARRIED

MADRID, Nov. 4.—The government announced today that it could prevent at all hazards a monster labor demonstration arranged for tomorrow at Barcelona, to which city the strikers at Sabadell have declared they will march.

General Weyler, captain general of Catalonia, has a large force of troops at his command, but these will be reinforced by 15,000 soldiers.

Dr. Thompson Found Murder 2d Degree

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—After deliberating for 1 hour and 20 minutes, a jury this afternoon found Dr. Robt. Thompson guilty of the murder of Eva Swan, the Paso Robles school teacher—whose body was found mutilated in a Eureka-street house.

They fixed the degree of the crime as murder in the second degree. The jury retired at 11:55 o'clock, deliberated for 15 minutes and then went to lunch.

The verdict was returned at 3:16 p. m. After the verdict had been read by the foreman a continuance was had until Monday for sentence.

Mrs. Frank Soule Causes Abusive Driver's Arrest

WOMEN COME TO RESCUE OF TEAM

Society Leaders Protest Brutal Treatment of Horses by Expressman.

Are Turned Upon, and Professor's Wife Quickly Calls for Police.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—The fashionable residence district along Hill-gate avenue was thrown into a state of unusual excitement yesterday afternoon, when the women of the neighborhood including Mrs. Frank Soule, a society woman and wife of Professor Soule, of the civil engineering department at the State University, and Mrs. C. M. Hill, wife of President Hill of the Baptist Theological Seminary, became involved after witnessing the brutal beating of a team of horses by George L. Schabert, an expressman of 1039 Fourth street, West Berkeley, and caused the man's arrest.

Mrs. Soule resides at 2311 Hill-gate avenue and Mrs. Hill at 2579 on the same street.

PROTEST TREATMENT.

Two other women, who were walking along the sidewalk and whose names are unknown, were the first witnesses of the man's brutality. They became indignant over his treatment of the horses, which had in some manner aroused the driver's wrath and caused him to lash them with strength and fury. Both admonished him to show more mercy toward the animals, when the expressman is said to have turned upon the women and used language almost as abusive as that which he had poured out upon his horses.

This was too much for Mrs. Soule, who telephoned to the police station and had

MRS. FRANK SOULE, who called police when driver turned on her.

Schabert taken into a story on a charge of cruelty to animals, referred by police officers. The defendant secured his release on bail, but Mr. Soule, accompanied by Professor Soule, visited the city hall this morning and swore to a second warrant, charging him with the same offense.

Barnard Is Sentenced to Six Years' Imprisonment

Leslie L. Barnard, convicted of embezzling a large sum of money from the Sperry Flour Company by doctoring the adding machines in their office, was sentenced this morning by Judge Brown to six years in San Quentin.

Previous to the passing of sentence, Barnard's attorneys made a request for leniency. They represented that Barnard's father was willing to make restitution to the flour company, but the court ruled that whatever action that might be taken along these lines would have no bearing on the present status of the case.

Only one thing, said Judge Brown, was likely to affect the court in passing sentence and that was the possible showing that Barnard had in his possession at the present time money which had been taken from the flour company or property which had been purchased with the same.

The judge asked Barnard if such was the case, warning him that the question need not be answered if his attorney advised against it. Barnard, however, answered promptly, saying that he had any of the stolen money or any property in his possession purchased with it.

The attorneys for the convicted embezzler were given time to prepare a writ of habeas corpus, which will be made the basis for a motion for a new trial.

As the district attorney's office agreed not to prosecute Barnard on the other counts against him, the convicted man's attorneys subsequently withdrew the motion for a new trial which they made. Barnard was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Beet Sugar King Near Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Colonel H. Reiman Duval, president of the American Beet Sugar Company, is critically ill at his home here, following an operation performed a few days ago.

Colonel Duval recently returned from California, where he had gone to inspect his company's properties and to get estimates on the beet crop. Shortly after his return he became very ill. There was a consultation of physicians and it was decided to operate at once for gallstones. The operation was successful and his recovery is hoped for.

Colonel Duval served with distinction as a colonel in the Confederate army during the Civil war.

AUTHORITY OF JUDGE IS SET AT NAUGHT

Attempt Made to Have Pretty Effie Wilson Jailed for Killing Sweetheart

Court Refuses to Revoke Probation Granted Young Girl Who Slew Recreant Lover

Attorney for Family of Murdered Man Evoke Law to Have Young Woman Punished

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Pretty Effie Wilson, 19 years old, demure and winsome, who shot and killed her lover, Guido Varsi, whom she claimed had eloped with her from Texas and had promised to marry her, was the cause of an upheaval today, the like of which has not disturbed the sanctity of the police courts for the past decade, and the upshot of the matter is yet to be determined.

GIRL IN COURT.

The girl, who several weeks ago was released on probation and placed in the care of Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Seaton, was brought into court this morning, and on motion of her counsel, Attorney Sullivan, Judge Conlan ordered a two-week continuance, it being represented that the young woman was not strong enough to undergo a preliminary examination.

Attorney Greeley, representing the family of Varsi, whose brother and sister were in court, was of his feet in a moment with a pistol, demanding that Miss Wilson be placed in prison.

SEEK NEW WARRANT.

Judge Conlan would not hear him further and on the advice of Sullivan, the fair defendant with the three women who were her protectors, took refuge in the ladies' dressing room. They were followed by Greeley and Assistant District Attorney Perkins. The former stood guard at the door, while Perkins went to the bond and warrant clerk and secured an additional warrant charging murder.

None of the police judges would sign the warrant, however, whereupon Judge Conlan's action and Perkins and Greeley appealed to Acting Captain of Detectives Ryan, ordering him to place the girl in jail.

GIRL IS HELD.

Ryan detailed Detective Murphy to get her and she was taken from the dressing room to the captain of detectives' office, where she was held pending the return of Chief Seymour, who will have to decide the question.

Attorney Sullivan declares that if the young woman is imprisoned he will have her out on a writ of habeas corpus.

It developed later that Judge Conlan had granted permission to Effie Wilson to return to her home in Texas, escorted by one of the philanthropic women who have had her in charge. The court intended to dismiss the case in two weeks, and it was this that aroused the ire of attorneys representing the family of Guido Varsi.

Chief Seymour refused to interfere in the case and the matter has been put up to District Attorney Clark.

DROPS TO DEATH AS SHE FLEES BLAZE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—One woman was killed, several persons were injured and there were numerous narrow escapes in fires in various sections of the city today.

Mrs. Rebecca Acner, the woman killed, is declared by witnesses to have been kicked from a third floor fire escape while she was fleeing with her husband and children from a fire set by an incendiary in the Clinton street tenement district.

The woman's assailant escaped unidentified.

Another woman fell from a rear fire escape and was badly hurt. The building was badly damaged.

MRS. EDWIN B. DE GOLIA DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Passes Away at Oakland Home, Leaving Husband, Three Children and Mother to Mourn Her; Funeral Private

Mrs. Nettie G. De Golia, wife of Edwin B. De Golia, a mining man of San Francisco and Oakland, died at 7:45 last night, at her home, 411 Fairmount avenue, after an illness extending over the last four years. A general breakdown is given as the direct cause of her death. The deceased was 41 years old and numbered among her friends many prominent in society on both sides of the bay.

Besides her husband Mrs. De Golia leaves to mourn her, three children, Elizabeth, 18; Edwin B., Jr., 11; and Yvonne, 5; and her mother, Mrs. E. O. Crawford, of this city.

Mr. E. B. Adams and Edwin von Adelung attended her during her last illness. Mrs. De Golia was born in Chicago but had lived a great part of her life in California. She took a leading part in society before the fire of 1906, her illness hindering her to her home since then. The shock occasioned by the April catastrophe was too much for her and since then she has been rapidly failing.

The funeral, which will be private, will be conducted from the home of the deceased Dr. Charles R. Brown will officiate and interment will be in Mount View cemetery.

BRIDE SLAIN AND SPOUSE SOUGHT

Shot to Death in Street and the Murderer Eludes Pursuit of Score of Detectives.

yesterday the woman appeared at a Market street cafe, where she had been employed as waitress, and said that she had been thrown out of the apartment occupied by herself and her husband at the Third street hotel. The woman was then about hysterical with grief, and after collecting $12.80 that had been due her at the cafe, left after confiding to another waitress that her life had been unendurable since her marriage.

Where Mrs. Brown met the man who killed her has not become known, but but shortly after 8 o'clock they were seen going up Polson street from East street.

MURDER IS SEEN.

Frederick Mann, 570 Harrison street was talking with Carl Fredericks and Nicholas Silested, when he saw the woman and a man turn into Main street from Polson street. The man was then berating the woman, and she shot rang out as soon as they had reached a darkened spot a short distance from the farmhouse of Engine Company No. 9.

The man was seen running for a more secluded part of the street, and eventually became lost to sight behind a pile of old boilers and junk.

The woman was dead when passers-by reached her. Her lifeless fingers clutched a small handbag upon which she had fallen.

PAIR OF BABY SHOES.

Search of this handbag revealed a few trifles and a note fixed to a pair of baby's shoes.

"Give to my baby Harold to remember his mother by—poor little darling," the note read. "I want the people who spoke to Mrs. Barlow to take the little fellow if they are still in the mind of doing so."

The boy mentioned by Mrs. Brown in the note is her son by a former marriage, and is twenty-one months old. He is now supposed to be living in Oakland.

Landlady Says She Did Not Hold Mrs. Haines' Baby as Hostage

Settlement of the differences between Mrs. C. A. Childress, who complained to Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto yesterday that her five-week-old baby was being held to insure the payment of lodging, and Mrs. C. E. Haines will be effected today. It is believed, when Mrs. M. Lockerman, mother of Mrs. Childress, arrives from Oroville, a telegram has been sent to Mrs. Lockerman telling of her daughter's destitute plight, and she is expected to arrive this afternoon.

PARENT CLAIMS.

The young mother of the baby, the landlady and the sister of Mrs. Childress laid their rival claims before Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto yesterday afternoon. Declaring that she was guilty of the charge of having kept the infant from its mother, Mrs. Haines explained her action by saying that no clothes had been provided for the baby, and that she would consider it an act of cruelty to allow the mother to take it away without garments to keep it from the cold.

Mrs. Childress insisted that she should be given her child, but as she was without funds and had no clothes for the little one, Attorney Decoto allowed Mrs. Haines to care for the child at the Sacramento house until the arrival of the mother. Mrs. Haines should have another arrive, he instructed the landlady of the hotel that she would be forced to allow Mrs. Childress to have her baby.

Mrs. Haines declared today that her actions were dictated by charity, and that she had had no intention of keeping the child, which, she said, was "useless to her."

Mrs. C. A. Childress and her sister rented rooms at a cheap place six weeks ago. I allowed her to use my kitchen to cook three meals and outside of this I had no special interest in their welfare. She is at present in debt to me for six weeks' rent, and it is my statement that she or her sister had money is absolutely false. Her story to me was to the effect that her husband was employed in Oroville and he would send her money to pay it up any day, so I let it run out of pity for hers and child.

SCREAMS FOR HELP.

"About 2 a. m. yesterday morning I was awakened by screams for help which came from her room," demanded Mrs. Brown and found Mrs. Childress and her sister had had a violent quarrel and had come to blows as a result. I advised them to keep quiet and go to sleep. Suddenly Mrs. Childress and the sister, who would kill the other, burst in and I left the room at her sister's request that there would be no more disturbance. Mrs. Childress left the house this morning and a clear statement she intended to find work and put the child in a home. I sent a telegram to her husband at Oroville, but the Western Union informed me that they could not locate any such party.

TALE FABRICATION.

"Her tale is a fabrication from beginning to end and outside of rank melodrama I have not had the pleasure of hearing such a tale as is concocted for the benefit of the press, the attorneys' office and the newspaper. In all my experience this is the first time I have had any one go to such extremes to get out of paying room rent. I neither held the child nor the money, and yet when she came to send her back there, 'I will never get me on that train,' she said to me. She went over to the city in the afternoon to try to find Mr. Rogers to see if he still wanted to take the baby, but she did not succeed and came back last night. We begged her to stay all night, but she wouldn't."

HAD AN APPOINTMENT.

"I've got a date in the city," she said. I went to the gate with her and noticed that she had just missed a train, so maybe she was late and that started the whole business. Her appointment was with Brown, of course. One strange thing, she gave me $5 before she left to buy some shoes and a little dress for the baby, and yet when she was found she had a pair of baby shoes in her handbag. I guess her mind was all upset with the trouble she was having. She had plenty of money yesterday, while handful of gold pieces which were her savings for the last several months. She said Brown had told her to take it with her to Tonopah.

"The confused and distracted condition of the poor girl's mind was plainly shown by her contradictory actions. She must have guessed what her fate would be or she would never have written the note found pinned on the baby shoes."

"I suppose the sisters will take the little boy now," Mrs. Barlow said, "and perhaps they will get someone to adopt him. It is a very sad thing for him, and he is such a bright baby, and we love him very much."

Brown eyed, with lovely light brown curls, the child seems such a baby as could not help but win a heart full of love in any home. Quiet, well behaved, full of a face like a little Raphael cherub in answer to a question at times the poor little fellow lay on all unable to comprehend the tragedy that had befallen him or the violent manner of its accomplishment, nor could all the explanations in the world bring it to his baby mind. "I wonder what will become of him," said Mrs. Barlow.

"The grunboat Yorktown is due at Amapala tomorrow to relieve the Princeton."

Kidnaped Girl Found Locked Up in Room

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—Locked in a room and crying helplessly, 7-year-old Mollie Moser, a 15-year-old girl who was kidnaped Monday from Levee, Minn., was found today by the police. Albert Moser, 13 years old, was locked in an adjoining room.

The police after breaking down several doors, arrested Sam R. Saso and Mollie Martin. The former, it is said, boarded the train with the Mother girl at St. Cloud on Monday.

SAW BABY ON DAY BEFORE DEATH

Woman Might Have Saved Her Life Had She Staid Over in Oakland.

Brown referred to in the pathetic note found in her handbag. After leaving the hotel Mrs. Brown was employed as janitress in a Market street office building.

When Mrs. Barlow next saw her she said she was leaving to be a waitress in a small cafe out in the Richmond district in the city, and from there she went to a well known cafe on Market street. Soon after that she changed to another downtown cafe.

"We sort of blamed her for changing around so much," said Mrs. Barlow. "But I found out yesterday that she had had to leave every place on account of Brown's jealousy, for he would become drunk and go to the places where she worked and make terrible scenes. He came out here with her several times and seemed to like the baby, and finally they came here and they had just been married by Justice Quinn over here in Oakland. They seemed very devoted that day and mamma and I laughed about it, remember."

"She came again a week later, and then yesterday. She seemed very downcast yesterday morning and said her husband's insane jealousy was more than she could stand. They had been quarreling lately, she said, and he had refused to pay the baby's board or to let her pay it. He was jealous of even the poor little baby. She said he had bought her a ticket to Tonopah and was going to send her back there. 'I will never get me on that train,' she said to me. She went over to the city in the afternoon to try to find Mr. Rogers to see if he still wanted to take the baby, but she did not succeed and came back last night. Burlingame Clubman Slaps the Face of Walter McCreery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—That a duel is not imminent in fashionable clubbing in San Francisco is only because the principals in a face-slapping episode on Wednesday evening at the St. Francis Hotel are living in a modern age and in a modern way. As it is, Cyril Tobin, the popular Burlingame clubman, is rapidly acquiring the title of "Cyril the Slapper."

This time Tobin has slapped the face of Walter McCreery, millionaire clubman and poloist, who returned from England only a few days ago. They had a little quarrel Wednesday night. It is said, regarding the legal ability of Henry McPike, who represented McCreery in his recent litigation with his wife. One remark called forth another and soon the two were deep in a somewhat heated controversy, which came to a climax when Tobin slapped his Burlingame clubmate square in the face. When Percy Selby, who was sitting with the party at the time, interfered, Tobin again gave McCreery a smacking slap on the cheek, after which he coolly sauntered from the hotel.

Walter Stopped, an Englishman, who moved in the best circles here, is another who has suffered the indignity of a slap in the face by Tobin, which, like the McCreery incident, occurred after an argument.

HIRAM JOHNSON ANSWERS BELL IN PEPPERY SPEECH

DEMOCRAT IS PLAYED AND QUESTIONS BRANDED LIES BY REPUBLICAN LEADER

CURRY LAUDS PRESIDENT AT DREAMLAND MEETING

Great Crowd Hears Standard-Bearer Declare
Opponent Knew Charges Were False
Long Before He Made Them

Hiram Johnson

SAFETY. — A dreamland land link was crowded last night by those who came to hear Hiram W. Johnson, the Republican candidate for governor.

The vast hall was not large enough to hold all who came, and an overflow meeting was held outside, where Julius Kahn and several other speakers addressed the crowd in the street.

The assembly of thousands cheered when Hiram W. Johnson entered the hall, and manifested a keen interest in all his utterances. It had been expected that he would answer the questions which have been propounded by his opponents, and he did not disappoint his hearers in this respect.

Charles F. Curry presided, and was cheered when he said that he would support Johnson, as he would have expected Johnson to support him had he been successful at the primary election.

LYNSNER REPLIES TO BELL

Meyer Lynsner called the meeting to order, and asked the privilege of being heard in answering a statement made by Theodore A. Bell on the previous evening. He then presented the question of Bell's remarks, which he had referred to Lynsner as a cunning, crafty political boss, who, in the event of Johnson's election, would proceed to build up a political machine with the state patronage.

"There are three answers to this," Lynsner said. "First, it is answered in the Republican platform, which declares for the elimination of political patronage. In the second place, Hiram Johnson is not the kind of man to allow any one to dictate to him; and in the third place, I would not be the chairman of the present government, then in the terms of Hiram Johnson were the kind of man the newspapers are trying to make him out."

He then introduced Curry by saying that every man loves a man who works for the people, and particularly for Johnson.

CURRY SUPPORTS JOHNSON

The audience manifested its appreciation of Curry with prolonged cheers, and he said:

"This magnificent audience proves to me that San Francisco is determined to do her duty for the whole ticket and for Johnson."

He then paid a tribute to President Taft and to Governor Gillett by saying: "More constructive legislation has been enacted during the term of the present government than in that of any of its predecessors, and more constructive legislation has been enacted in the two years in which Taft has been the chief executive of the nation than in the terms of any of his predecessors; unless it be the first term of Jefferson or the last term of Lincoln."

"Taft is the ablest man who ever occupied the President's chair. God help this nation if any chief executive should ever attempt to act above its laws."

SPEAKS FOR THE TARIFF

Curry went on to speak of the tariff legislation, saying that without it the state could not ship an ounce of a hot bit of olive oil from California. Starting his next sentence with the name of Senator La Follette, he was interrupted with thunderous applause. After this tumult had subsided, Curry continued:

"I was going to say that even that great man, La Follette, said it was an outrage to put a tariff on the orange or the lemon that went to the city man's bedside."

"I don't know any reason," Curry continued, "why any Republican voter should not vote for the entire Republican ticket."

He spoke of W. W. Shannon and Frank C. Jordan and alluded to Justice Melvin and Storer as "young men and splendid judges."

POLITICAL DRAMA

Then Hiram Johnson was introduced and he spoke as follows:

"Today California is seeing the enactment of a most extraordinary political drama. It is a drama that is not unfamiliar to the American people, nor unknown in our sister states. In many states already the varied scenes of this political drama have elapsed, and in many places it is yet being enacted. In many places we have seen already a number of phases that have characterized this political drama with us. Today special interest in the state of California is at bay in the last ditch, making its death struggle, just as it made it in Washington in the past, when the great name of Belmont stood as the people's choice."

BEAST IS AT BAY.

Today the beast is at bay. Today it is in its last struggle in California, and in its last ditch, making its death struggle, just as it made it in Washington in the past, when the great name of Belmont stood as the people's choice."

Every man who hopes from the marauding of that beast of special privilege to obtain spoil or obtain place, that beast, as every man has turned pale, and today in this city and all over the state is belching forth its billingsgate to nominate the very man who called out that he is a beast, and is sitting out of the state that very beast and that very special interest."

"Today and tonight I come to you after two weeks of campaigning south of this city and say to you, just exactly as the chairman of the state central committee has said, there is no need for us to be otherwise than of good cheer in this campaign."

"It is a most astonishing spectacle that is presented here in this campaign. A new kind of campaign, indeed, that has been introduced into California, by an imported, hired prevaricator from Indiana. In the state of California we have witnessed in the last two weeks the remarkable spectacle of Abraham Ruef and representatives of the interests sitting down with a Democratic candidate for governor and an imported man from Indiana; and when we see these distinguished patriots are sitting together we find them manufacturing out of whole cloth every conceivable innuendo, every conceivable slander, every single thing that cunning mendacity can invent."

DARE NOT SPEAK TRUTH.

"And when they have manufactured out of this character, instead of a direct accusation against any man, they translate them into a series of so-called questions that are put in the mouth of the accomplice and co-conspirator, while the rest of them scurry to cover. And then the accomplice, the man brought here by the Democratic candidate for governor, puts his questions containing the innuendoes. The distinguished representatives of the press blazon them forth and demand that answers be made to the queries that have been so manufactured in the concave of these fellow spirits."

NO APOLOGIES NEEDED.

"I want you to know that I have no occasion on the face of the earth for any apology for any cases that I have ever had in the State of California. If any man wants to vote against me, let him vote against me on the basis of the character that is his right. He may do so. I make no complaint whatever. If he votes against me because of a lie regarding that case then I do complain, and I have a right to complain. And when the first question is put in the mouth of the accomplice and co-conspirator, while the rest of them scurry to cover, and then the accomplice, the man brought here by the Democratic candidate for governor, puts his questions containing the innuendoes. The distinguished representatives of the press blazon them forth and demand that answers be made to the queries that have been so manufactured in the concave of these fellow spirits."

LEGITIMATE EMPLOYMENT.

"In 1906 I became the employee, I was employed legitimately, in the so-called graft prosecution. I continued in that employment until the election of the Langdon campaign in 1907. And I call to witness the 2000 people who, at the opening of that campaign, crowded into the Mission rink and who were here to fight to elect Langdon. At that time openly and publicly to those 2000 people I discharged myself from the graft prosecution, telling them that I was going to participate in a political campaign, and that I did not desire in that campaign, or at all, to be hampered by any employment that might be considered a private employment relating to that particular matter. That was about the first day of October, 1907. No more case. I then never contemplated or thought of. About the middle of December indictments were brought against Brown, Barnett and Treadwell. For three months I had been connected with the graft prosecution."

KNOW STATEMENT UNTRUE.

"And that nails the No. 1. Because you will remember that it was asserted by these kept sheets of the interests, and it was asserted by the Democratic candidate for governor, that I left the graft prosecution to undertake the defense of Brown. He knew when he asserted that it was not so. What do you think, then, in a campaign such as this, involving the most exalted position in the State, of a candidate who deliberately utters throughout the State of California what he knows to be an absolute untruth? I leave to you the determination of the character of such a man."

"In December, after the indictments, I was regularly employed in the defense of Brown, as I had a right to be, and for which I have no explanation to make and no apology to make to any body. And after that employment the district attorney's office, through William Hoff Cook, made the proposal to Brown that he testify against the other two defendants in the case. That question was left for him to determine. He did determine that he would accept the proposition thus made to him. He gave himself into the hands of the district attorney, and thereafter, except for such counsel as I could give him, I had no connection with the criminal case in any degree whatsoever."

NEVER GOT SHARE OF STOCK.

"Now it is charged that I received a fee of $55,000 in Western Pacific stock. I never received a share of stock of that corporation in my life. I have never been connected with the Western Pacific Railroad Company."

"Then it was charged that I received

Here Are Johnson's Answers to Bell

"In 1906 I took employment under what was called the graft prosecution in San Francisco. On October 1, 1907, I openly discharged myself from that employment. In December of the same year the indictments were brought against Brown, Treadwell and Barnett. That nails the No. 1."

"It is charged that I received a fee of $55,000 in Western Pacific bonds. I never received a share of stock or owned a bond of that corporation in my life. I never have been connected as an attorney or otherwise with the Western Pacific."

"I am accused of receiving a fee of $55,000 in the Brown case. I did not receive one-tenth of that sum, and Brown never gave me a penny of the money I received in that particular case."

"All this is known to the Democratic candidate for Governor. Nevertheless he has gone about the State indulging in the accusations and permitting his co-conspirators to do so."

"Today California is seeing the enactment of a most extraordinary political drama, not unfamiliar to the American people nor to our sister States. In many other States this same drama is being enacted. In some it is closed."

"Today special interest is at bay in California. It is in the last ditch, making its death struggle, just as it has been in Washington, Colorado, Wisconsin, Kansas and where the pioneer of the people's rights is leading the battle."

A fee of $55,000 in the Brown case. That is equally and absolutely false. I did not receive one-tenth of that sum in that and civil cases relating to Brown.

"Other innuendoes have been contained in the questions that have been submitted. As to any secretion of property, or any knowledge of any property that may have been had by any one of these men, they know I had no knowledge whatsoever; equally false as any such insinuation, and every inference, every single attempt that has been made to be smothered in all this stuff, is absolutely and unqualifiedly false—known to be false to the man who uttered the stuff and known to be false to the Democratic candidate for governor."

IS LIKE POISON.

"Now, so much for that proposition. There it ends. Any man who reads such stuff and believes it is like the man who injects a drug into his own veins. He wants to be poisoned. That is all there is to it. And those who want to be poisoned in this campaign may be poisoned. You can not poison, thank God, the whole state of California."

"Now you understand, do you not, just why such tactics are being resorted to in this campaign? You realize, do you not, just why we meet this sort of vilification and abuse? Why, the object is to obscure the real issue, to make you forget the great fight that is on and to divert and befog you as to the real issue and the real truth. And I do not propose now in the remaining days of this fight to permit any of the newspapers to hire hired prevaricators from Indiana, or any Democratic candidate for governor who attacks me in the language of Abraham Ruef, to divert me from the issue that is on in this campaign and to make the dominant one that you must solve. When I hear that fight it was a free state and a free people and for political emancipation. Now by is the fruition of all our hopes and the consummation of our dreams."

HE WILL GET WISH.

"I wish Bell nothing worse than that on the 8th of November he will take his conscience with him into retirement from the political life of this state. Every single influence that you have known in the past as evil in this state is on the one side of that line. There is the whole pirate crew today, all gathered together in the one den, and the one design to elect the Democratic candidate governor of this state."

"It is a bully fight still, my friends. You know it nationally. There it is locally. Choose you between. There is the issue."

Not long after Ryan had finished, Julius Kahn made his appearance and was given a rousing reception. In his speech he said in part: "This enormous crowd of people here tonight to hear Hiram Johnson speak proves more clearly than any words that the people will register their votes for the candidates who represent true Republican principles."

"I am speaking for Hiram Johnson and for the entire Republican ticket. Under a Republican government the tax rate in our state today is lower than that of any other in the nation, and in the north California stands fourth in the list. New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut only preceding her."

From this he held that a Republican government was the only one that would stand for the entire Republican ticket. Of the Democrats, he said, "are the strongest in the south. Therefore they speak in sympathy with New England. To send back Democratic representatives would mean that we should lose greatly needed support."

CURRY PAYS TRIBUTE.

Among the other speakers who appeared at intervals was Charles F. Curry, successful candidate for the nomination for governor in the primaries. He paid a graceful tribute to Johnson's ability and said that, a though defeated by the present candidate, he was giving him his entire support and would work for the entire Republican ticket. Of the Democrats, he said that their path was strewn with the wreckage of broken platforms and broken pledges.

Many other Republican candidates took the opportunity of adding the crowd outside the building and the side door was in constant use as they slipped out of the building to address the overflow meeting and then went back to listen to what Johnson was saying inside.

BLOOD DISEASES
CONTAGIOUS TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly permeates the system than any other disease. Its infectious virus contaminates every corpuscle and tissue of the circulation, and for this reason its symptoms are of a varied nature. When it enters the blood it is but a short time until the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the skin becomes spotted, rashes and eruptions appear on the body, sores and ulcers break out, the hair falls, and frequently nails on hands and feet thicken and come off. Mineral medicines which simply shut the poison up in the system should be avoided, for when such treatment is left off the old disease will break out again, often worse than before. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison permanently, and it does so because it thoroughly purifies the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out the last trace of the destructive germs, adds richness and vigor to the circulation and the body back to health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of mineral, and its vegetable ingredients always hasten the cure by toning up the stomach and digestive members. When he spoke of the Panama-Pacific Exposition he was interrupted for some minutes by the applause. He argued that it was from a Republican Congress that California must have the position to be assigned to this city, and for that reason pleaded that a California representation going to Washington, with a Republican governor, senate and assembly elected here, would be in a position to demand that in return for the loyal support the Republican government grant the exposition.

"The Democrats," he said, "are strongest in the south. Therefore they speak in sympathy with New England. To send back Democratic representatives would mean that we should lose greatly needed support."

POLITICAL MEETINGS

HIRAM JOHNSON.

Today Young Men's Hebrew association hall, Pierce and Stanyan streets, San Francisco.

Saturday night Hiram Johnson will address a meeting in the Star theater, Mission street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth, San Francisco.

Republican county rallies tonight at Niles.

THEODORE BELL.

Tonight in San Francisco. Saturday in Santa Clara.

DEMOCRATS BUSY AT END OF FIGHT

Theodore Bell to Speak Twice in San Francisco Tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. — The last meeting arranged by the Democratic county committee will take place tonight at the Star theater, on Mission street, near Twenty-third. The principal address will be by Theodore A. Bell. The chairman of the county committee, T. A. Reardon, will preside. Sidney A. Van Wyck Jr., chairman of the campaign committee, says that the San Francisco county committee has done its share of work, having provided for forty meetings during the campaign.

Bell is to speak tonight at Dreamland rink, after finishing in the Mission. The Dreamland meeting is arranged by the independent Republican club, of which Charles S. Launer is president. Earl Eberhart has been chosen for chairman of this meeting. Timothy Spelacy will appear with Bell.

HERING TOMORROW.

As the county committee closes up shop today it will not handle the meeting arranged for tomorrow night, at which Frank E. Hering of Indiana is to speak for Bell. This will be looked after by the Bell-Spelacy club.

Bell on Saturday will speak at the town of Santa Clara, at 5 o'clock, under the auspices of the independent Republican club, and will then go to the regular Democratic meetings at Redwood City and San Jose. The Redwood City meeting is set for 7:30. Bell will not reach San Jose until 9:30, and before his arrival there J. O. Davis of Hollister will address a large number of Democrats who will escort Davis.

Taft CONFIDENT OF RECIPROCITY TREATY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — A reciprocal treaty with Canada, to be adopted by joint resolution of Congress, is one of the big achievements that President Taft looks for from the session to convene the first Monday in December.

The British ambassador, Mr. Bryce, informed the President at Beverly Hills yesterday that his government was willing that the United States agents should deal directly with the Canadian authorities.

Henry M. Hoyt and Charles M. Pepper, respectively solicitor and assistant attorney general of the State Department, who left for Ottawa yesterday, are equipped with full powers to agree upon a treaty to be submitted to Congress in the form of a joint resolution.

After the elections Secretary of State Knox will join the conference at Ottawa.

PREDICTS VICTORY.

He said in part: "Seven thousand people have crowded their way inside the rink and I only wish the building were twice as large. This is only an exhibition of enthusiasm with Mr. Lynsner. He is equally rampant in the south. From what he says I am certain that Johnson will have a plurality of 15,000 in Los Angeles and the entire Republican ticket will carry a majority of 30,000 south of the Teha api."

"From the north, from the valleys, from all parts of the state, come reports showing that the people of California realize the great issue behind Hiram Johnson and that a fight is being waged against the operators who have hired prevaricators from Indiana. Admittedly for the sake of argument that both candidates for governor are equally good and capable men, still Johnson should be elected, because he represents the issue as to whether the vested interests or the people are to govern."

KAHN CHEERED.

Not long after Ryan had finished, Julius Kahn made his appearance and was given a rousing reception. SOUTH LOYAL TO PANAMA-PACIFIC

Avery Wires Los Angeles Will Vote Strong for the Bond Issues.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. — That Los Angeles will poll the State's largest vote for the Panama-Pacific bond issue and that the southern metropolis will locally support every proposition designed to advantage San Francisco was the promise wired the Republican State central committee last night by Russ Avery, chairman of the Los Angeles committee. Here is Avery's telegram:

"Meyer Lynsner, San Francisco: Los Angeles was the first county in the State to officially endorse San Francisco's Panama-Pacific exposition project. On November 8 it will be Los Angeles county that will poll the largest vote in favor of the $5,000,000 bond issue. On every question affecting the material welfare and prosperity of San Francisco Los Angeles has proved herself to be a loyal friend. May we expect from the voters of San Francisco the same cheering news with reference to Albert J. Wallace. RUSS AVERY."

"Chairman of the Los Angeles county Republican central committee."

URGED FACTORIES.

"The Republican party urged the building up of factories and shops so that we could have markets nearer by. The theory was that the manufacturer and his working people should have protection to the extent of the difference of cost of production at home and abroad."

"This has always been the Republican policy. Free home markets have been given to the people and our manufacturing system has become the greatest on earth. These policies have built up a great market within our country."

"During the administration of President Cleveland the bars were let down and tariff duties were low. The result was that our mills shut and compete with those of foreign countries. Our workmen were thrown out of employment, and the farmer lost his market because like men could not buy goods."

CRY OF ROBBERY.

"Now the cry is being raised again that we are being robbed by the tariff. It is up to the voters to say whether they want a repetition of the experience between 1892 and 1897, when the factories were closed. The present administration has been doing things. The Interstate Commerce Commission will do justice between the shipper and the railroads. The tariff will be modified. Any country discriminating with 20 or equal terms to other countries or the law will be used."

"The Department of Agriculture is in touch with all sections of the country. It has 2000 specialists and the resources in its conditions which interest the farmers. A few years ago nearly all our rice was imported. Along the Gulf of Mexico we now raise the equivalent of all rice raised in the United States. We import some, but we also export some. Along the northern border states we make 500,000 tons of sugar per year. The last beet sugar crop was nearly $1,000,000. Adopts Protective policy and put sugar on the free list and the growth of beets and making of sugar would stop."

WOULD HURT STATE.

"From California 2,000 cars of citrus fruits were shipped last year. If the duty on citrus fruits were put from Mediterranean countries, where cheap labor prevails. We are studying dry farming. Already we have found a wheat from Korea. An African wheat will grow on our dry land and are now getting about 60,000,000 bushels of wheat annually from that land. There is no reason why we should not raise all the wheat that the people of this state alone. Meat producing will follow."

"Food prices are higher and people are blaming the tariff for protecting prices. Food cannot come from Europe. It is up to the people of this state to put the tariff on the free list and the growth of beets and making of sugar would stop."

Already we have found a wheat from Korea. An African wheat will grow on our dry land and are now getting about 60,000,000 bushels of wheat annually from that land. There is no reason why we should not raise all the wheat that the people of this state alone. Meat producing will follow."

"Food prices are higher and people are blaming the tariff for protecting prices. Food cannot come from Europe. It is up to the people of this state to put the tariff on the free list and the growth of beets and making of sugar would stop."

WARNS THOSE WHO FIGHT TARIFF

BOURBON STANDARD BEARER
EXPOUNDS PRINCIPLES IN ADDRESS AT IDORA PARK

Theodore A. Bell, Democratic standard-bearer, and his running mate, Timothy Spellacy, were given an ovation last night in the Idora Park opera-house, in which 2000 voters were assembled, while hundreds strove vainly for admittance, anxious to hear the party leader expound his principles and answer the criticisms made upon a disclosure of his record by his Republican adversary. Bell aroused the great audience to a pitch of enthusiasm seldom seen in a political meeting. It was a Bell meeting and it was taken by the local managers of the Hourbon chiefs campaign as a spoil of the campaign.

Bell's address was a clear and concise statement of his platform, a refutation of all charges leveled against him, and a clear exposition of the policy he would pursue if elected to the office of Governor of California. There were no long-winded speeches, no address and the audience, appreciating the straightforward address, gave their prompt attention to the speaker and promised support to the Democratic candidate for office. No doubt Splicy's "heart to heart talk," in which he denied his power as an orator and dwelt on his inability to address a big gathering, was the factor in the masterful summing up of the political situation, called forth such enthusiasm as was evidenced by Bell's logical and powerful disclosure of the "heart to heart" involved in the present campaign.

The great gathering which packed the opera-house and overflowed into the park itself was not representative of Oakland alone, but reflected the political life of Alameda county in its entirety. Well-known faces from Alameda and Berkeley and from the suburban towns were in evidence in the great audience, and the throngs gave the Bourbon chief a welcome such as he has not received during the present campaign.

Clean cut throughout, Bell's address appealed to the voters by its logic and strength. Bell did not mince matters and slurred no point that his rivals had attacked. His address was set forth succinctly and in a clear and straightforward manner that won the hearts of his hearers. His address was given added strength by its simplicity. The usual arts of the orator were lacking and Bell talked straight from the shoulder. The crowd was moved by the enthusiasm that emanated from the great gathering.

Dr. Edward R. Taylor, reconstruction mayor of San Francisco, elected as chairman of the meeting and in a short but strong address discussed the political situation and scored Hiram Johnson, Republican nominee for Governor, both by innuendo and by a straight attack. In making sarcastic reference to certain facts which Johnson admits receiving.

Spellyay's address was a clean cut discussion of the issues involved in the present campaign and he was warmly received. He made a strong point against his political opponent. Bell arrived during Spellyay's address and at sight of the Democratic standard-bearer the great audience went wild with enthusiasm. Bell was introduced by Dr. Taylor and he said in part:

"My fellow citizens, I am glad to see this ovation, and I esteem it great honor to be asked to preside here this evening. I am especially glad to meet the men of Alameda county for the first time since the death of Henry H. Haight came, and I deem it entirely appropriate and fit to mention him on this occasion.

"He was the first man to strike a blow at railroad domination of politics, and he completed the blow by voting against the Legislature. He raised his hand and struck the first blow at the system and that system never again during his term raised its head with but one exception. That was in the shape of a subsidy bill and it was void.

"What is the history of the Democratic party as to the issue while has been raised in this campaign: whether or not railroad interests should continue to dominate in the State? Governor Irwin and fourteen men in the Senate, with but one exception Democrats, grappled with it long ago. One of these men was carried from his death bed to the Senate and with his dying lips uttered the word that settled the matter before the railroad subsidy.

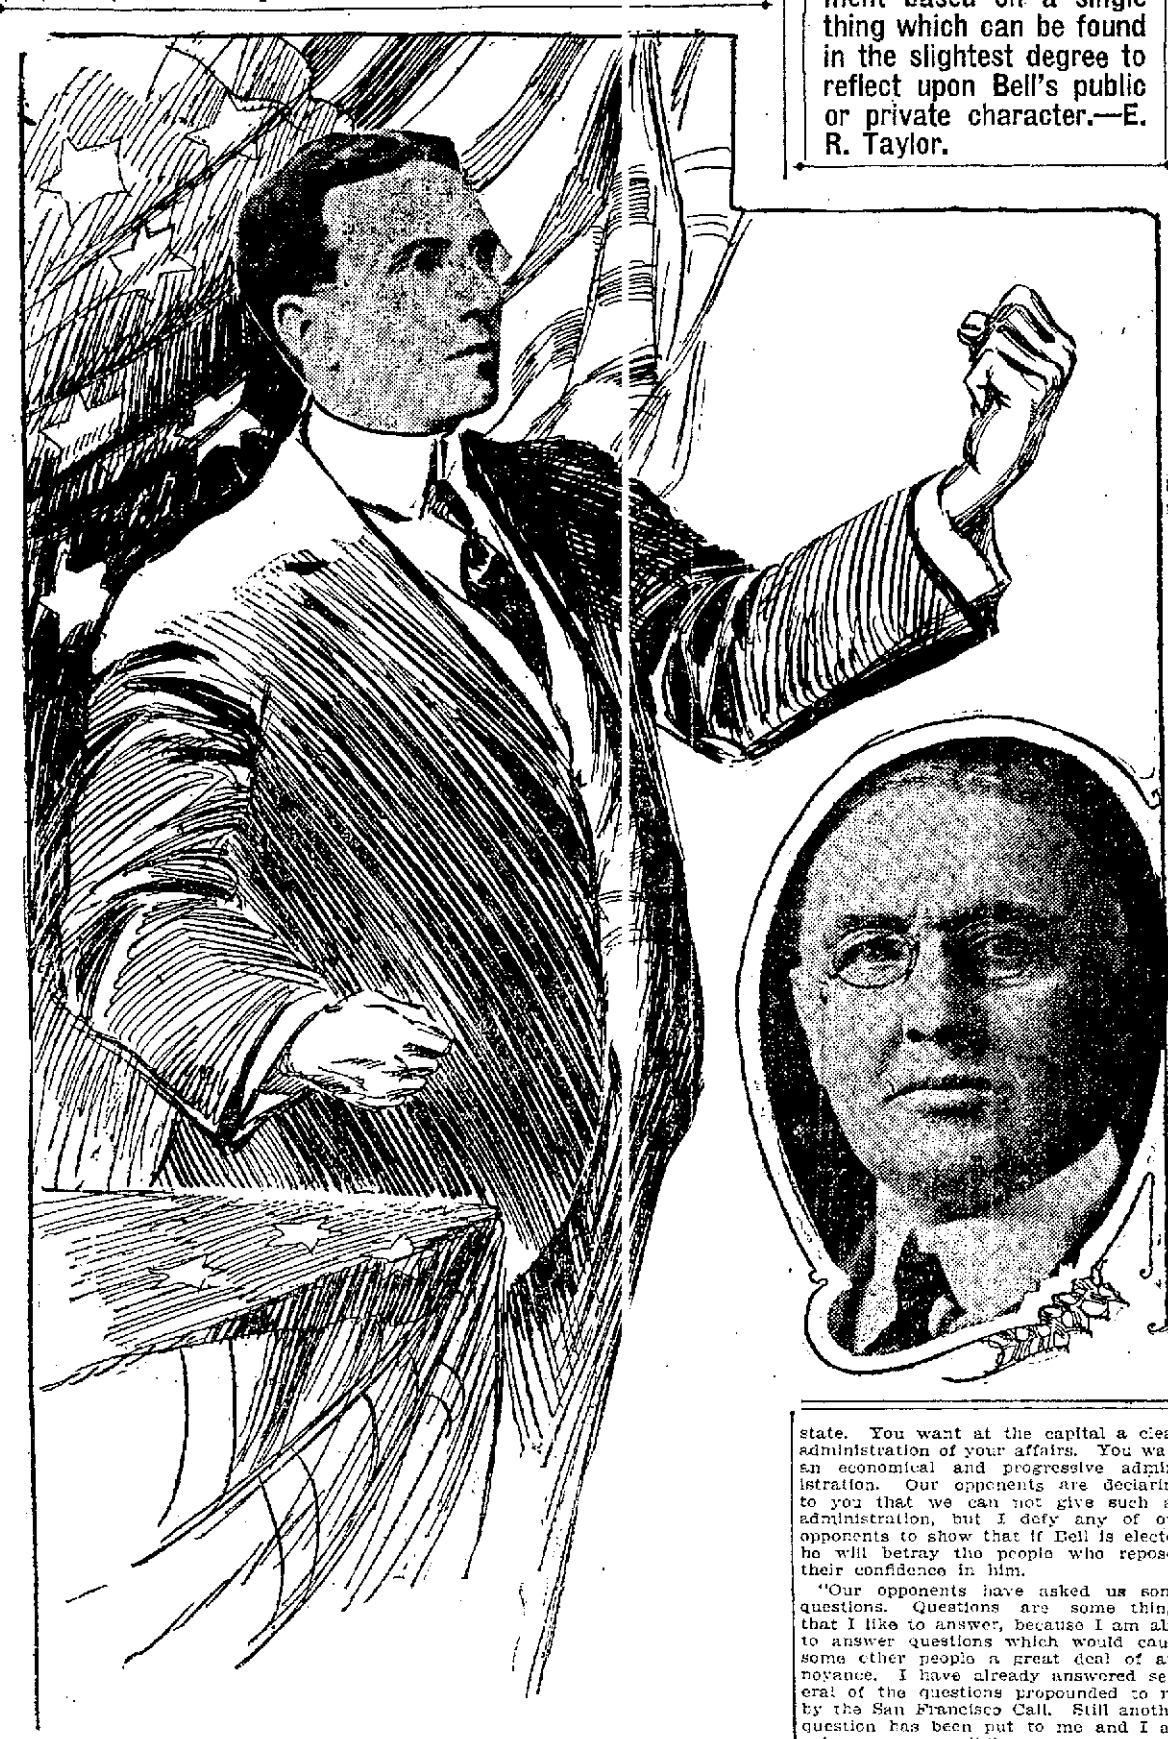

"Now trust us." What a remarkable plea to make to intelligent people! The Democratic party in power defile the railroad interests and the Republican party in power nursed them. The candidates of the Republican party have been in a condition entirely consistent with actions of their predecessors as railroad managers have done.

"The railroad issue has been made the main issue in this campaign. The Republican party says that is the only issue.

"Where can you look, where can the conscientious citizen look, except to the candidans of the Democratic party is its candidate for Governor of Georgia. - Throughout all this campaign

THEODORE A. BELL as he appeared last night while addressing the Idora Park gathering and TIMOTHY SPELLACY (below), who also spoke.

There has never been a charge or direct statement based on a single thing which can be found in the slightest degree to reflect upon Bell's public or private character.—E. B. Taylor.

the "Democratic" party would go down to defeat in defense of a principle that is in history by decision of the people. (Applause.) We are defying any person to show a spot on his record of many years. He has been sixteen years in public life and four years ago he practically bankrupted himself. He financed his campaign for governor on the Democratic ticket when he went through the state preaching the doctrine which is being preached by our party in this present campaign.

"Johnson has said that for twenty years the influence of the Southern Pacific in politics was destroying the state. If that influence has been at work all that time, was it not his duty as a citizen, loving the state, to make some effort to ward it from being destroyed?"

Theodore Bell for only six months, and I think it would be the proper thing to allow him to practice them for several years longer so that he may show that there is real conversion in his case.

"The great state of California is in need of greater development. One of the difficulties in the way of this development has been the scarcity of cheap fuel for manufacturing purposes. The state has been handicapped in this manner as also by the Southern Pacific machine. But now, under the sand which heretofore produced nothing, we are getan acre being a few thousand barrels, while here the capacity of a given acre is greatly in excess of that in the eastern part of the country. This gives a cheap fuel and that is what is wanted to aid in the development of the state. I wish to aid in the development of this state and I promise you that if I am elected lieutenant governor of California I will do all that I can do with that purpose in view."

"Now that the next governor has arrived," said Speakey, "I want you to go to the front. Turn away and cheer Bell and Speakey and we will assure you a removal of the beneficent influence which has been the bane of this state for years."

"Mad I expected that I was to be treated in this enthusiastic manner by a hostile audience," he yelled after the storm and said he had subsided for hours. "I have taken a few hours' rest to meet the expectations of my friends here tonight."

...then continuously, day and night and
...you will notice, that wear and tear
...shown in my voice. This is beyond
...y comprehension. I did not believe
...that I would have the opportunity of ad-
...dressing so many men and women of this ...community. I want to thank you because I ...wanted to be able to say a few last words
...to you before depositing your ballot on ...Wednesday next.

'Some eight weeks ago it was my pleasure to open my campaign in San Francisco, and I took occasion at that time to extend to my opponent the utmost courtesy and consideration. It was

And I said to the people of California that I had such an exalted opinion of this great office I sought to attain that for one, believed this fight should be fought out upon high ground, and that I, for one, no matter what others might do, intended to wage my battle in a manly, decent and dignified manner.

I was born in Vallejo thirty-eight years ago and nearly half of that time has been spent in public life. I had the honor of being elected county attorney in my county when I was casting the first vote, at the age of 22. I served that duty for eight years in that capacity and I was then promoted to a seat in the United States Congress, where I remained for five years. Since the United States Congress, six years ago, I have been in constant contact with public affairs in this State, so that I believe that tonight I am qualified to pass a fair judgment

"I think that you've heard, first of all, that this government of yours at the state of California should be clean, honest and decent. And then, after that, that we have an economical and a progressive and constructive administration of our affairs. We believe that, with the record of our part, we believe that with our own persons we can give to the people of this state that sort of an administration.

"I know the people of the state of California. I know the state itself. I know its resources, which are inexhaustible. I know its struggles and the improvement of the people because I have shared with others some of those struggles, and I believe I know the government that ought to be given to the people of this

Discusses Charges Against Him and Shows They Are Without Foundation in Fact

called special privilege but I, for one, do not understand and despise it. I believe of all gross abuses of power, the worst is the abuse of special privilege. In the past, this thing called privilege has been the worst. As I looked over the pages of history, I find that the nations of antiquity, of the middle ages, and even of modern times, that have gone down in the great black abyss to eternal destruction and ruin, have not been destroyed by invading armies, by forces externally employed, but they have crumbled away from inside, they have rotted away from within. And in every single instance you find that this internal rotteness had its source in special privilege. (Applause.)

nation do not destroy this hydra-headed monster called privilege; whenever it rears its head in our midst; if we are not wise enough and courageous enough to destroy privilege, privilege will destroy us, as it has every nation in the past, and I believe in that greatest of humanitarian decisions, equal right to all and special privileges, to none.

"That is the reason why I fight this war," I would fight the Santa Fe company. I would fight the Santa Fe, the Western Pacific—and I can imagine that even the Western Pacific, building into our State, reaching out for the patronage of the people may also be greedy of political power; even the Western Pacific may desire to become a monopoly, to take over the Southern Pacific. It makes no difference to me, I don't care under what name it may

I have the physical strength, the mind to think and the voice to speak.

"I believe it is possible for us, gentlemen, to set up a government at Sacramento that will proceed upon this great doctrine of equal rights. And if I take the inaugural oath, as I confidently expect I shall, am going to adopt the motto, 'The People,' the ideal, at least, of my administration."

"Off here," they said, "is Ideology."

"Whether it is up to you now to say whether or not you are willing to cross the party line. There is not so much difficulty in doing that. I say this to you Republicans. You need not be afraid of me. I am no revolutionist; I mean that we are going to make some changes in the event of our taking into power, going to pass a tariff bill. That is within the province of congress. We are to be concerned in state matters only."

But then, since that he had asked him opponent what he was going to do to break the monopoly in this State, and that the only answer he had received was that Merritt was to be kicked out. Continuing, however, he said:

"I assure you, if I am elected governor of this State, that within six months
 I shall take the steps necessary to break the State of that robber-
 and source of injustice to the people."

I know about this thing called equality, and I guess we are not all created equal. We are not all alike—no, two are alike. We are all different. We differ in our direction in our mental energy; we differ in our power of moral resistance; we differ in will, in position, in determination, in hopes and in aspirations. The same environment has not surrounded our early lives. The same conditions have not existed in our homes. It does not mean that spirit of equality. But I do mean an equal children educated. It was all huncumecum. But I say that it is not all huncumecum. The great question that is before us is, what are we going to do to the boys and girls who are growing up around us. Are we going to transfer to them advantages greater in educational matters than we have given ourselves or are we going to allow them to have the same advantages which we have? I am not saying that we have any limited advantages against which we have enior, so that this is an down here who wears the garb of a laboring man, unskilled, earning a small daily wage, that, in the eyes of the law and of the State, is the State Senator for the corner of California. He shall start the absolute poor and the absolute equal of the greatest multimillionaire in the State, living in his mansion in luxury and ease. (Applause.)

If I be elected to this high office you will have that kind of a Democratic administration in this State during the next four years.

"I have fought the railroad company in my public life in this State and I have done so in the halls of Congress. I have a record as being the only representative from California, who on the floor of the house made a fight for the reduction of rates and for the general control of rates on the behalf of the businessmen and the shippers of this State.

"I fought the railroad when I was district attorney not because it was a railroad but because it represented the granting of special privileges in this State. I have seen the same thing in the mountain sides there were thousands of sheep, which would furnish the material for the manufacture of woollen goods. He also told about the government being the owner of the land and millions of human beings, who arose from the sleep of centuries were beginning to use the same kind of articles which are used by the people of this country and which are manufactured in the United States. He also spoke about the excellent markets for the products of this State, which are being opened in the republics of South America.

You recall how we denounced Collis P. Huntington in the same terms that we condemn Ifferrin at the present time. The hand of death called Huntington down from the system, sir, still survive! Then came the time when we condemned Edward L. Harriman in the same unmeasured terms. The hand of death laid Harriman low, but it spared Ifferrin. And if William F. Ifferrin were stricken with death tonight, before sunset tomorrow they would substitute another Ifferrin in his place. It is the system, sir, not the people. These men are incidents; these men are mere instruments, these men are merely representatives of a system of political special privilege, favoritism at the hands of the government.

Does not my opponent go before the people of this State and say that he is against the whole system? Why does he not fight special privilege? He confines his attack to Ifferrin, and to such an extent that the people are believing, from one end of California to the other, that I is animated by a at the very entrance to the greatest markets in the world.

Answers Inquiries

Referring to the insinuation that they were people with unworthy motives being him, Bell said:

"They go about the State and complain that this or that man is behind the candidacy of Bell. They are certain individuals, I will not go down the entire list, but I will give you the entire list of the present political situation in this State:

"This man who is now my opponent contesting with me for the highest office in the gift of the people at the polls of this State, made a first-class campaign throughout the primary election of 1902 throughout the entire State of California. He started out, sir, upon this very platform to root out of the Republic

BELL SPEAKS TO A GREAT CROWD AT DORA PARK

Again Tells People What He Will Do If Elected As Governor.

MAYOR TAYLOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO BOURBON

Overflowing Meeting Held to Satisfy Crowd That Is Left Out.

Urban party thousands of men who had claimed for years to be of that party and to speak for that party, and in order that he might start he read out the Republican President of the United States, William H. Taft, from the Republican party of the United States. Then he came on down the line and went into every village, community, city and town in the State of California, and everybody that would not accept the Johnson brand of Republicanism was kicked out of the Republican party.

"Kicking Out"

"He not only kicked out—and, mark you, I use the word 'kicked' with quotation marks because it is not one of the terms of my personal vocabulary—he not only kicked out Herrin and other men who had done Southern Pacific politics in this State, but he kicked out the crowd, he kicked out the crowd, every Republican in the State who would not accept his peculiar or particular phase of politics in California.

"And what is the result? After kicking out thousands of Republicans out of his party 'throughout California' he is gnashing his teeth at the present time because Bell did not kick them back in.

Denies Any Alliance

"I do not deny that there are thousands of Republicans in all parts of the State who are going to vote for the Democratic nominee but they are men who will not be bound by the efforts of men who have no power to punish, those that which has been decided upon by those who want to dominate the Republican party and who will stand for nothing save subservience to the dictum of Johnson and his associates.

"As Bell made this statement, he turned toward Dr. Taylor, who was the chairman of the meeting, and who at the meeting in San Francisco the preceding evening had made the statement that he did not believe Bell was a man who would have any dishonest or unworthy alliance. Bell then declared that he desired to thank the doctor for the confidence which the latter had shown in him and then declared, in a most solemn manner.

"I give you, a man of honor, the word of a man of honor that I have made no alliance with any man in this campaign that I could not publicly broadcast through the press of California.

"The idea of a 'man of honor' suggested a reference to the part of Bell's prominent older, editor of The Bulletin of San Francisco, for the purpose of a clarifying that, so far as the speaker was concerned, he did not consider older to be a man of honor. It was not a slip of the tongue Mr. Bell said.

"Older is not a man of honor, because he invited me to his office and then published a falsehood of what had taken place in his office. If there is any friend of older here, he may take this word to him."

Challenges Republicans

Bell then challenged any Republican who was present to show whether Johnson had, in all his travels through the State, during his candidacy, given expression to one live progressive principle for the advancement of California.

Bell waited for a reply but there was no person present who had the courage or the information sought by the speaker.

After another solicitation that the voters go to the polls Tuesday next and vote for the Democratic nominees the meeting was brought to a close with enthusiastic cheers.

Wall Speaks

W. C. Wall, a candidate for the office of railroad commissioner from the Third district, was the next speaker called and he discussed at length the possibilities of a Democrat being elected to that office for which he aspires from the Third district. He said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I am standing before you tonight for the first time in my life as a politician. I have never in my life been mixed up in this game before, but as a railroad man with about twelve years' experience I can safely say that I am confident that I know more of the railroad and the way they ought to be run than any other man that is occupying the office of commissioner at the present time. Not one of the men that now occupy those offices can tell a true bill from the New Testament, and not one of them could tell you how to make out a way bill if you should ask them. I think that those are the kind of men who ought to have their hands delving around in the matters of the railroads' affairs and attempt to find means that they would not know if they saw them? No. They are not, and I want to say that to you. But I do know that I get into that office. But I do know that a man who has made his living for the past twelve years in the railroad business and has spent the majority of that time in studying the western classification and conditions is better able to cope with the issues at hand than the

CRUSADE BEGUN FOR ARTISTIC LETTER BOXES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—"Letter Box Uplift" is the latest crusade to which the municipal art commission here has turned its attention. It hopes to establish a uniform plan for placing mail boxes throughout the city, in order that the boxes may be more attractive in appearance and more convenient in location. The commission hopes to abolish the letter box as an appendage of the street lamp and telegraph pole and to place it instead on an artistic pedestal of its own. Postmaster Morgan has promised his co-operation.

ARCTIC BROTHERHOOD CLOSES CONVENTION

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 4.—The Arctic Brotherhood convention which closed last night, selected Portland, Ore., as the place for the 1911 convention, which was set for the first Tuesday in November. CLEVER PROGRAM TO BE FEATURED Funds to Be Raised for Oakland Day at Typographical Union Convention.

Preparations are going on for the printers' benefit to be held at the Oakland Orpheum Monday evening, November 7, and from all indications the affair will be one of the biggest successes of the year. The funds raised are to be used for Oakland Day at the convention of the International Typographical Union, which will be held in San Francisco next year, when 3500 delegates are expected.

One of the features of the evening will be the presentation of stereoscopic views of the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, which is the greatest institution of the kind in the world. J. S. Daviler will explain the scenes as they are shown on the screen and his ability as a speaker and his familiarity with the home will make this part of the program both interesting and instructive.

Other features will be Miss Glose's piano monologue, William Simms' farce, "Funder's Furrishod Flat"; Spissell Brothers and Mack in "Senes in a European Restaurant"; a juggling act, comedy by Thurber and Madison, "Adventures of a Troubadour," by Tortajada the Spanish dancer, and other high class acts.

HEALTH OFFICIALS TO HOLD MEETING

County Officers Asked to Send Delegates to San Diego

A call has been sent out by the state board of health to all boards of county supervisors and all boards of city trustees for delegates to attend the California Health Officers' conference in the annual session with the league of California municipalities, to be held in San Diego, November 16-19, 1910.

The purposes of the conference are explained by the state board as follows in the letter set to the city and county board officials:

"Every trustee or supervisor knows many instances in which health officers have been caused by disagreement of county and city health officers over questions of quarantine or other public health matters. The state board of health believes that their attention needs to be called to his conference to elicit approval of sending delegates from their respective sections of the state. If each board of trustees and supervisors would assume the traveling expense of its delegates the conference would be assured of full representation from the entire state, and correspondingly greater efficiency in its work. The state board, therefore, urgently recommends that each county and city in California be represented by at least one delegate to the conference of California health officers."

CHANGES NEEDED.

The section of the conference for city and county public health officials, under the chairmanship of Dr. W. E. Snow, secretary of the state board of health, will consider the inauguration of policies aimed to effect radical changes in the health protection practices now in vogue in California.

A discussion of "Needed Legislation" will analyze measures to be submitted to the legislature, the aim of which will be to fix standard ordinances for the adoption of all cities in reference to milk and meat supply and tuberculosis control. "Standard Regulations for Quarantine" will be considered with the view of formulating a uniform series of quarantining practices for cities and counties throughout the state. The aim of the proposed measure is to do away with conditions which admit of a child within the limits of some city being turned loose on the community only a couple of weeks after an attack of scarlet fever, while the child in the next block, being under county jurisdiction, is held in quarantine for the regulation six weeks in error.

DIFFERENT PAPERS.

A consideration of the topic, "What Diseases Must Be Reported?" will be made for the purpose of bringing efficiency and harmony out of the present practices whereby the board of health in one town requires measles and whooping cough reported and really quarantined, these diseases, another town merely quarantines the cases while a reported voluntarily, while a third town pays no attention at all to protecting children from having either whooping cough or measles.

The subject, "Duties of Physicians and Citizens in Co-operating With Health Officers," will be brought up for discussion with the view of bringing out means by which the physician who acts as health officer can enlist the support which will enable him to safeguard the health of the community. Other topics to be discussed by the section of health officers are: "Methods of Garbage Disposal in Cities and on the Farm," "Real Property Between the City and County Boards of Health in Controlling Adult Vegetables and Meat Supplies," "What Deaths Should Require Postmortem Examinations and Coroner's Inquests," and "Feasibility of Municipal Slaughter Houses."

At the general sessions of the conference there will be lantern slide talks on "Sanitary Conditions in California," "Milk Campaigns," "Typhoid Campaigns," "Enteric Problems," and "State Hospitals for Consumptives and Lepers." Evening public lectures will be given on which topics pertaining to the control of pure milk supply and tuberculous milk be presented with the aid of moving pictures. A "Pure Food" luncheon, the festivity of the occasion, will be entertained by a series of three minute "up lift" talks.

A SAFE TONIC FOR MOTHERS

WHO DO NOT RECOVER THEIR STRENGTH AS THEY SHOULD.

Not Every Tonic Is Suited for Their Use but the Remedy That Cured
This Woman Is Safe and Efficient.

Every mother, who fails to regain her strength and health after confinement, needs a tonic. The years of weakness and suffering, which so often follow, are unnecessary and easily avoidable. The fact that her strength does not return is a certain indication that the blood has been overtaxed and is impoverished. This condition is often met more, for the mother often takes up her household duties while she is still weak, when a complete breakdown results.

The strength that the weak mother needs can be quickly found in the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are a blood-builder and they soon furnish the entire body with a health-giving stream of pure red blood.

The following statement, made by Mrs. George E. Sylvester, of No. 317 Second street, S. E., Watertown, South Dakota, regarding her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after several months of suffering with weakness, will interest every young mother:

"I was left in a very weak condition after the birth of my child. My limbs were numb and I had no feeling in them. Later there was a numb sensation all over my body. Finally my eyes were affected. There was a burning sensation in them all of the time and they felt as though they were on fire. My suffering was intense and I had to lie in bed part of the time.

"At the time I was living at Newton, Iowa, and received but little benefit from my doctor there. Later I was treated by a specialist at Des Moines, but as I felt no better I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which my people had been reading about in the papers. The pills gave me great relief in a short time. The burning sensation left my eyes, the numbness disappeared, and my general health improved. I continued using the pills and was cured."

A booklet, "Plain Talks to Women" which will be sent free to any suffering woman, gives many helpful suggestions in regard to the care of the health.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

BULLDOG ATTACKS BABY IN FRUITVALE

FRUITVALE, Nov. 4.—While playing in front of his home yesterday afternoon little 3-year-old Royce Svensen of 2132 Hopkins street, of Upper Fruitvale, was bitten on the right leg by an enraged bulldog which is owned by Mrs. G. Pullman, a next door neighbor. Mrs. Pullman stated after the accident that the small child had been teasing the animal and had been told repeatedly to stop, but did not mind. No infection is expected to set in from the wound.

It's only when some one gets tight that they turn themselves loose.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with.

Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left armpit. I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had so rarely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured."

MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy.

is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist.

Mrs. D. R. MacMillan, Harrison MacMillan, Mr. and Mrs. John Jewell, Dawson, Bluff, and Marion Dawson, Mrs. L. M. Butts, Mrs. Alice Burford, Mrs. Edna Burford, Mrs. Emma Burford, John Burford, Harold Burford, Mr. and Mrs. George England, Fred England.

ITCHING, BLEEDING ECZEMA WAS CURED

By Cuticura After 5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death was Near—Calls Cure Wonderful.

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment."

"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address, Mrs. Alta Eason, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

Cuticura affords the most economical treatment for eczema of the skin and scalp, from infancy to age. One bottle of Cuticura Soap and 30¢ of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Foster Bros & Co., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

EFFORT TO CURB INJUNCTION LOST

Arizona Framers of the New State's Constitution Reject
Restraining Measure.

PHOENIX, Arizona, Nov. 4.—An effort to restrict the use of the injunction by the courts of Arizona, especially in industrial disputes, met with defeat yesterday in the Constitutional convention after a debate in which the judiciary of the country was alternately arraigned by various leaders on the floor of that body.

Delegate Cunliff, author of the proposition prohibiting any court from issuing a writ, restraining any one from the exercise of the right to do what the Federal constitution defines as his right, made an extended speech in advocacy of the anti-injunction plank of the new Democratic national platform saying that a continued "usurpation of the injunctive powers by the courts was a menace to a Republican form of government."

PROPOSITION SOCIALISTIC.

Members of the judiciary committee, who were criticized by the speaker, declared the proposition was socialistic and defended the integrity of the courts from the attacks of Cunliff. On roll call the proposition was defeated by a vote of 15 to 35, all lawyers in the convention of excepting one and all Republican members voting solidly against it.

After a debate even more lengthy, a proposition was adopted abolishing regular sessions of a grand jury and providing for criminal prosecution only on information and indictment with the power of calling a grand jury resting with the superior judge. An amendment allowing 5 per cent of the voters to order the calling of a grand jury was defeated 23 to 30.

The Democratic conference decided that the percentage for the initiative and referendum should be ten for the initiative and five for the referendum.

AGED MAN IS STUNG TO DEATH BY BEES

CHICO, Nov. 4.—Attacked by a swarm of bees which he was trying to drive, Frank Lyons, aged 65, was stung to death yesterday at his home near Centerville that he died within an hour. Lyons became unconscious from the agony of hundreds of stings and was found in that condition under a tree by his son. His face and hands were terrible swollen.

WANT PRESIDENT TO PROTECT GRAND CANYON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Taft was urged today by a committee from the American Science and Historic Preservation society to extend by executive action the boundary of the national reservation which protects the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona.

The present boundaries of the reservation do not include a considerable area of the canyon and the members of the historic society are anxious that the entire scene be preserved.

The committee included George F. Kunz, president of the society.

NEW WHITE HOUSE COW IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Pauline Wayne III, the much talked of new White House cow, has at last reached Washington and taken up her domestic duties as provider of milk and butter for President Taft's household.

Pauline is a Holstein-Friesian cow of registered stock, her number in the bovine blue book being 115,580. She came from the stock farm of Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin and was on the road from Kenosha just two days.

At present she yields 1½ gallons of milk a day.

FIRE IN ANGELS MINE THREATENS DESTRUCTION

SAN ANDREAS, Nov. 4.—The fire started Wednesday in the 200-foot level of the Angels quartz mine, which is owned by James V. Coleman, is still raging in the underground workings despite the heroic efforts which are being made by the owner to get it under control. The fire was discovered about 3 o'clock when the shift which resumed work at that hour went on duty. How the fire originated is not known, but it is presumed that some one left a burning candle in the level, and that it ignited the timbers.

The Angels quartz mine joins the well known Elida and Lightner mines, and the flames are already endangering the latter properties. The management of the Lightner mine is playing two large streams through fissures in the ground in order to combat the flames beneath the surface immediately joining its property, and the Angels mine has blockaded that portion of the mine on fire in the hope of checking the flames.

Umbrella Quality

at Every Price

That's what you're sure of when you buy at Bowman's; no matter what price you pay here you're guaranteed the right selection.

There are three important points about an umbrella by which to judge its value: First, the fabric with which it is covered, second, the frame; then the handle. Some folks buy a poor umbrella with a handsome handle and think they've secured a bargain. The umbrella we sell has handle, cover and frame in exact balance with the price. Every umbrella is always worth what you pay for it.

NEW DRAMA ON AUTO SPEEDWAY

Drivers Await Starting Signal While Funeral Song Tolls Speed King's Burial.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—A drama new to American automobile racing was enacted on the speedway just before the start of the 100-mile race yesterday. With the strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" flowing from the grandstand band nine big racing cars lined up at the starting wire, their engines stilled for fifteen minutes while their drivers, with bared heads, waited for the last prayer to be said in another part of the city at the funeral of Al Livingstone, who was to have started in the 100-mile race, but who was killed in practice here two days ago. After the hymn there was a long silence, respected by all the thousands in the inclosure.

Suddenly the band started a two-step, the racing engines coughed and Livingstone, the "king of the dirt track," had passed forever from speedway events. New speedway kings were throwing the clutch into position and the big race was on. Joe Dawson, in a Marmon, jumped into the lead and held it for ninety-eight miles, when he was nearly two minutes ahead of the official American record for 100 miles for class B cars. Then a shaft broke and he stopped at the pits for repairs. Six miles behind were his nearest rivals, Gelnow's Paicar and Knight's Westcott, which for more than ninety miles had been running nose and nose, often with scarcely an arm's length separating them. In the last half mile Gelnow pulled ahead and won by 100 yards from Knight.

Dawson returned to the race just in time to take third place. Helman's Marmon and Baile's Pope-Hartford, both contenders up to the seventeenth mile, were hopelessly handicapped by bearing and tire trouble respectively. Time of winner, 1:26:17.52.

One hundred miles, class B, 301 to 400 inches, for Coco Cola trophy and $100.—Won by Fal (Gelnow), Westcott (Knight), second; Marmon (Dawson), third. Time, 1:26:17.52.

Twelve-mile stock chassis, 161 to 210 cubic inches piston displacement.—Won by E. M. F. (Witt), Abbott-Detroit (Montague Roberts), third. Time, 11:05.33.

Free-for-all, twenty miles.—Won by Marmon (Harroun), Simplex (Matson), second, Lozier (Mulford), third. Time, 15:20.77.

One mile time trials.—Best time by Fiat (Bragg), 41.12; Marquette-Buick (Burman), second, 42:95; Abbott-Detroit (Montague Roberts), third, 55.32.

Ten-mile stock chassis, 211 to 300 inches.—Won by Marmon (Dawson), Marmon (Helman), second; Fal (Gelnow), third. Time, 8:44.70.

Twenty miles, stock chassis, 451 to 600 inches.—Won by Lozier (Mulford), Lezier (Hovan), second; Simplex (Beardsley), third. Time, 16:18.02.

Ten-mile race, free for all.—Won by Marquette-Buick (Burman), Simplex (Matson), second, Fiat (Bragg), third. Time, 7:42.52.

FORE DOOR LIMOUSINE SOLD HERE.

There can be no doubt that the fore door feature in automobile body design has captivated the fancy of a large part of the motoring public. Not long ago the idea was regarded by many well informed motorists as a whim of Dame Fashion, but it has been proven that the fore doors add not only to the general appearance of the automobile, but to the comfort of the passengers in the front seats during these chilly days. Among those who have recently purchased machines of this design is A. F. Fowler of Oakland, who a few days ago accepted delivery of a fore door limousine Stinson-Garford "40" which was built in the local shops of the Studebaker Bros. Company.

DEVAUX NOW THE REG. AGENT.

Norman Devaux, one of the real pioneers of the automobile industry in California, is now the representative of Northern California for the Reg. line of automobiles. Arrangements to this effect have been under way during the past week between Devaux and Sales Manager Rueschaw of the Reg. company. For the past few months the Pacific Motor Car Company has handled the Reg. line, in fact, they have been the agents in this section since it was relinquished by the J. W. Leavitt Company.

Devaux is best remembered as agent for the Auburn car in Northern California for some time. His interests in this car he sold out in order to take up the representation of the Buick in Oregon and Washington. This interest in the Buick he has sold to the Howard Automobile Company, who have opened a direct branch in the north. He comes back to his old love, California, here again to take up one of the best known cars made.

For the time being his headquarters will be with the Pacific Motor Car Company in San Francisco.

NEW MAXWELL EXPECTED TODAY

The first shipment of the larger models of the 1911 Maxwell models is expected some time during the day. The new cars which are expected include the fore door models, a season feature of the well known Maxwell line.

SEATTLE'S MAYOR WELCOMES RECALL

Hiram C. Gill Confident That Election Will Result in His Vindication.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—Mayor Hiram C. Gill said yesterday that he would not avail himself of any of the technical delays that an appeal to the courts might give him in fighting the recall. He said that in event of a recall he believes he will win at the polls.

"I intend only to see that there are signed to the recall petitions the names of 750 qualified voters," said Gill. "The petition will be checked up for that purpose."

"It would be possible for me, I think, if I wanted to delay matters to demand a referendum on the question of holding the election. I am sure I could obtain enough names to such a petition to have the question sent back to the people. But I have no intention of so doing."

Managers Get Option On Lot of Mrs. Mathews In Elmhurst.

ELMHURST, Nov. 4.—Despite the fact that they were unable to come to any satisfactory agreement with Alice Kerwin in regard to the leasing of part of her huge tract of land in lower Elmhurst for the purpose of building a large motordrome, John Prince, representing the auto dealers on this side of the bay, made arrangements this afternoon to secure an option on a 10-acre tract owned by Mrs. Mathews. This tract is in fact more suitable for the purpose than the other would have been on account of the fact that it is near the Southern Pacific railroad and the West-

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

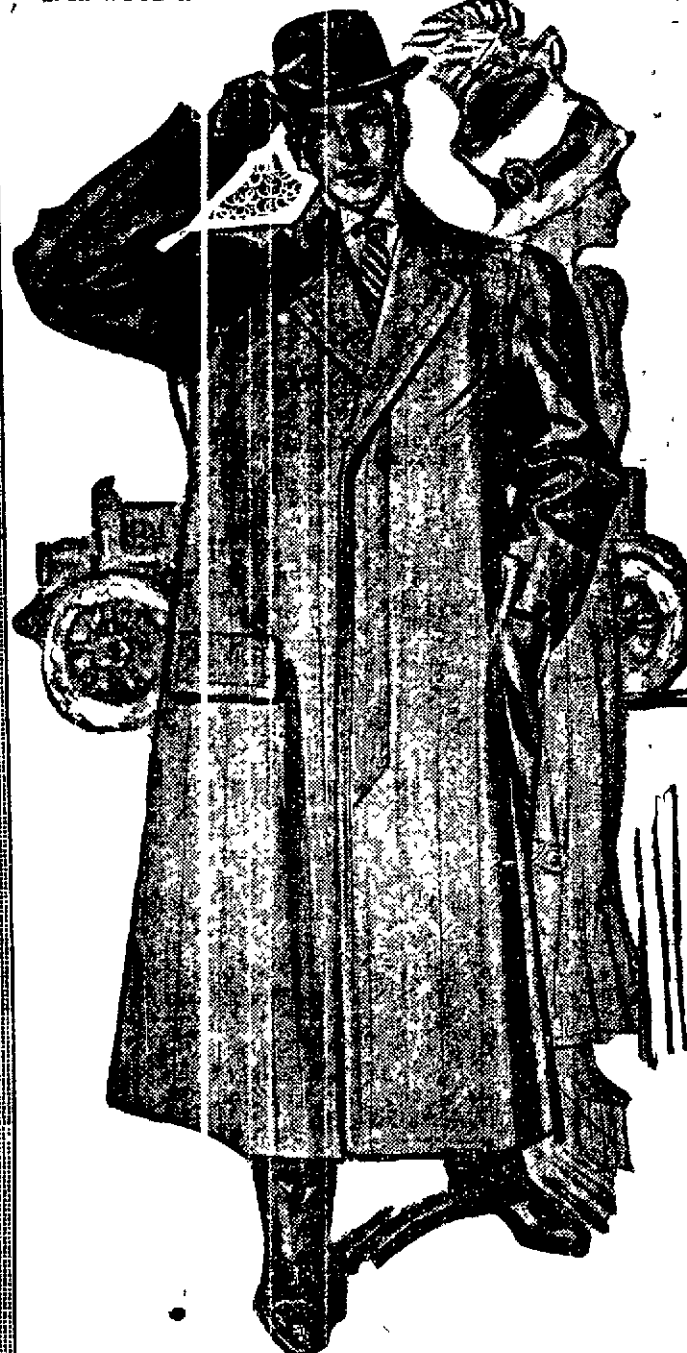

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered for a year from a fearful pain in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. Emma L. H. 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure the most obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

ALTA VISTA CLUB HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

The Alta Vista Improvement Club at its last meeting elected the following officers: President William J. Hughes, vice-president, R. M. Fottle; secretary and treasurer, George L. Englund, executive committee, E. L. Pavillard, P. Langbehn, Frank W. Arnold. After a year of good work retiring President G. Larsen refused to serve again.

The members present discussed the sewer problem and it was decided to await the action of the supreme court in the cases now pending before that body.

Several complaints were voiced regarding the lateness of the first car in the morning on the Leona Heights line. It was declared that people residing in that section could walk to East Fourteenth street and get a car there more quickly than they could be waiting for the Leona Heights car to bring them down town.

College Girls Are Incensed by University Editor

Co-Eds Up in Arms Over 'Passive Spirit' Editorial

ARE HORRIFIED AT HINT OF SURPRISE

Deny Planning to Attract Undue Attention to Themselves at Annual Game.

Dean Lucy Sprague Voices the Indignation Against Article in Californian.

MISS MARGUERITE WITTER, ex-officio president of women students, who denies they are planning coup at annual football game.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 4.—The grilling of women football enthusiasts by Editor Dudley Cates in the Californian, the student daily, a few mornings ago, has thoroughly aroused the co-eds of the State University, and the women find that Miss Lucy Sprague, dean of the women students, is sharing their indignation.

The suggestion contained in an editorial by Cates, that a "passive spirit" be shown by the feminine portion of the throng which is to fill the bleachers at the inter-collegiate rugby game on California field a week from next Saturday, has developed the fact that there is no passiveness in woman's make-up when she is stirred by righteous wrath, any more than there is when a particularly brilliant play is made on the gridiron and the only natural expression is shouting.

HAS QUIXOTIC TASK.

The gossip among the women students on the campus and in the lines of their dormitories today is enough to discourage Editor Cates in his missionary work of changing woman's ways.

Miss Lucy Sprague used the words "irritated" and "horried" today in expressing the attitude of the girls of the student body after reading the editorial. The bald statement that they had "plans for drawing attention to themselves at the big game" would have been enough, but Editor Cates went further and editorially suggested that they had better give up any proposed demonstration, declaring that a football game is "a distinctly masculine event," and that "a demonstration by the women students would be not only untimely but unbecoming as well."

Said Miss Sprague: "The women are to do nothing unusual this year at the football game. The only difference is that they have a section reserved for them in the bleachers. The statement in the Californian that a surprise is being planned by the women on the 15th is the only surprise that I have heard of. The women are very much irritated and horrified over the uncalculated remarks of the college editor. He has evolved something from his imagination that is not thought of by the women. The latter will be concentrated in a certain part of the bleachers, and will show as much enthusiasm as ever, but no more, as far as I am informed."

TO BE FAR FROM "PASSIVE."

Miss Marguerite Witter, ex-officio president of the Associated Women's Students, declared this morning that nothing extraordinary was being planned by her sisters at the university. In connection with their appearance at the game, there was nothing "passive" in her tone, either, when she said it. Miss Witter's aversion to any publicity in connection with the storm over Cates' editorial was indicated by her attitude toward any reporter-seeking by the women by means of unusual bleacher stunts.

The article which has stirred the women students is as follows:

"Whatever admiration we might feel for the women students in this setting a new mark in the display of feminine enthusiasm it is a little more than offset by other notions, and we would suggest that their proposed plans for drawing attention to themselves at the big game be given up. There have been constantly recurring rumors of a surprise to be expected from the women's section on that day, and as it surpasses our masculine imagination to picture any 'surprise' that would be at all fitting on such an occasion, we are loyal enough to the other half to bid them pause. "It is true that the university is the place for progressive ideas, and if the time is coming when equal rights and privileges will be accorded every one, California will want to be in the foreground. Even if that time were here, it would seem that a football game is distinctly a masculine event, and any demonstration by the women students would be not only untimely, but unbecoming as well. There should be the passive part until the world has changed a little more."

HE "LACKS KNOWLEDGE."

Miss Ethel Jordan, a member of the class of 1910, who is pursuing graduate work at the university, ascribed Editor Cates' opinion to a lack of knowledge of the real character of the women students of the University of California, as well as of the intentions of the women. "He has gotten some sort of idea that there was going to be something extraordinary and improper in our conduct on the 15th at the big game," said Miss Jordan. "But I have talked with

EAST COAST IN STORM KING'S GRASP

Blizzard of Midwinter Intensity Comes Booming Up Atlantic Seaboard.

Five Steamers Overdue and Two Ships in Distress Appeal for Aid.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A storm of midwinter intensity which came booming up the Atlantic coast last night, bringing with it sharp gales and heavy falls of snow and rain, left today a broad trail of broken wire communication along the seaboard.

Telegraph companies were beset with difficulties in all directions. The storm was apparently severest between Baltimore and Washington, all wires between these cities being down.

SOGGY, CLINGING SNOW.

Pennsylvania suffered from a soggy, clinging snow and wires across the state were either down or working only intermittently.

Five steamships due at quarantine this morning were still unreported at 9:50. The steamers are evidently detained by the high gales and mountainous seas.

SIGNALS FOR HELP.

The steamship Koonigen Luise, which arrived early today, reported that there was a small American steamer anchored in the outside harbor, and that the crippled steamer signaled that she wanted to be towed in.

Another steamer believed to be a steam tug was later reported anchored off Sandy Hook in a disabled condition. She is the French steamer Handuras from New Orleans, October 22 for Dunkirk and Havre and presumably made this port to effect repairs.

Washington Almost Cut Off by Storm

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The national capital communicated intermittently with the outside world today. In all directions were blown down by a severe storm, accompanied by rain and snow. Last night no direct wire communication between here and the north could be had, while conditions in other directions were almost as bad, although a limited outlet and inlet for news was had by way of the west.

Severe Snowstorm Grips Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The northeast gale which came in from the ocean yesterday developed during the night into one of the worst November storms in years. In the mountain districts of Pennsylvania snow fell to a depth of 12 inches and in some places drifted badly. Railroad and trolley service in these sections is impeded.

The storm was accompanied by a high wind which played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires.

Part of the anthracite coal region is surrounded. At Delmar, one of the highest points in that region and at Prackville more than a foot of snow fell and drifted in places to three feet. Trolley service was maintained with difficulty and the Pennsylvania railway was obliged to use the anthracite and Philadelphia and Reading railway company, because of the heavy drifts.

Business of all kinds in Schuylkill, Philadelphia and Lancaster, York, Williamsport and other points west of Philadelphia were cut off from all wires.

Many women about the matter and am sure there will be nothing ridged. They have been so much difficulty experienced by women students in past years in obtaining desirable seats at the big game that they decided to concentrate this year.

They will wear yellow chrysanthemum and, of course, will be more noticeable on this account, but I don't believe any of the 500 University of California women who sit together will be guilty of undue hilarity. If any one should become too noisy there will be enough wise hands in the crowd to subdue her.

"Editor Cates probably got the idea that there would be a woman yell leader and an organized disturbance, but I don't look for anything of the kind. Stanford women have had to sit in a similar position for several years and Stanford should be allowed the same privilege without so much stir."

NO "ROOTING" SECTION.

Miss Mildred Jordan, a member of the junior class, was of the same opinion as that held by her sister. They had talked over together their fears that the newspaper would devote headlines to the rumored organizing of women's rooting sections at the big game following the publication of Cates' editorial, and today both expressed their relief that no such reported intention has been given publicity outside of the students' daily paper.

ALAMEDANS HUNT ON ALVARADO MARSHES

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—City Auditor and Assessor Fred J. Croll, School Director C. H. Ward and R. H. Chevalier will leave tonight for the hunting preserves at Alvarado. They will make the trip in Ward's Stevens-Duryea car.

The Alamedans expect to bag the limit and have promised their friends a rare treat in the line of ducks.

LEAVE FOR SANTA CRUZ.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—E. O. Putzman and Isadore Durand have left for Santa Cruz, where they will spend a few days, returning Monday. Part of the time will be spent in the mountains, where the Alamedans have a cabin.

'IN FIGHT TO FINISH,' SAYS COLONEL

Roosevelt Declares He'll Win the Next Time, if Not Now.

Boosts Grill's Candidacy in Davenport Speech; Crowd Is Cordial.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Nov. 4.—A crowd of several thousand persons listened to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt here today when he made his first speech in Iowa for Charles Grill, Republican candidate for Congress. The week we recorded him was cordial, with no marked degree of enthusiasm. There was so much loud talking by men in the crowd that the colonel could not make himself heard at all.

More than an hour before the time set for his arrival the people began to gather, and when he reached the park he was greeted by a large crowd of students of Augustus College in Rock Island, who gave their cheer, as did the high school students.

LAUDS COLONEL.

The sky was dull and the weather cold. Representative Lawson made the opening speech. He said Colonel Roosevelt's presence made it certain that the Republicans would carry the district.

"After all the turmoil," said Colonel Roosevelt, "the Republican party is coming together on a sane and progressive platform, while our opponents are utterly divided."

The official leadership of the Democratic party, Colonel Roosevelt said, was never absolutely satisfactory, as he asserted was the case in New York, Connecticut and Missouri and other states, or else it was purposeless and vacillating.

TAKES UP 'ARRIF.

He then took up the tariff repeating the statement which he had made in several states.

"We Republicans stand by the principles of protection, which is right," he said, "and will abandon the method which is wrong. Our opponents have adopted the position of abandoning the principle which is right. If Republicans did not work in the right spirit," he said, "we'll hunt them out of public life."

"We're in this fight to a finish. We don't care whether they are temporary checks. I don't think we will be defeated this year, but we are well fortified until November succeeds in the Bull Run. If we are beaten this time we will win next time."

CORRUPT ALLIANCE.

The colonel said Tammany Hall and Wall street had formed a corrupt alliance could not defeat the Republican policies by fair argument, nor by any means other than by a large expenditure of money. The colonel explained his doctrine of new nationalities, giving his ultimate definition of it. He again expressed his disagreement with the supreme court.

GRAND AVENUE DISPUTE ENDS WITH COMPROMISE

Council Committee Accepts Traction Company's Offer to Pave Six Feet of Roadway

Facing the possibility of the denial of the application for a franchise in Grand avenue for an electric car line, the Oakland Traction Company, through Edward W. Briggs, consented last night to pave six feet of the roadway, thus capitulating in a fight that has dragged its way through meeting after meeting of the council committee of the city council. The company receded from its original position that it was acting the role of philanthropist to put in the line at all, but fought the demands for improving the roadway until forced into the concession by the stand taken by the property owners that sooner than have their street torn up and taken from them by the company they would go without the railroad.

NEW APPLICATION.

As a result the application made several weeks ago has been withdrawn and a new application will be filed with the city council bearing the stipulation that the Oakland Traction Company will pave six feet on one side of its tracks in addition to the two feet required by law. The franchise petitioned for is for a short line running out Grand or Nineteenth avenue from the present line.

Chinese Parliament To Convene in 1913

Official Decree Issued by Throne Giving People Chance in the Government.

PEKING, China, Nov. 4.—An official decree was issued today announcing that an imperial parliament, the first in the history of China, would be convened in 1913.

of the United States in the wake shop case, and his criticism of ex-Judge Simon Baldwin, candidate for governor of Connecticut. Colonel Roosevelt explained that all he sought was an equal opportunity for all men.

"My opponents call that socialism," he said, "but it is the antidote for socialism. The conditions that throw men in the scrap heap, which discard them at 50 for a life of pauperism, are wrong," he continued.

General popular rule and absolute honesty, he asserted were necessary to overcome them.

At the close of his address the colonel went to his train to go to Des Moines.

"DEMAND ONLY FAIR."

"This demand is only fair," said President B. H. Pendleton. "You are taking nine feet of improved street and leaving nothing useful for the teams. Why can't you give four and one-half feet on each side in improved street in addition to the two feet the law demands you shall improve, making an eight foot strip on each side to be used for teams? They have sixteen feet out there now, and after the car line is in, if you did this, they would still have sixteen feet in the clear for teams."

"But this would cost us $2000," answered Attorney Eng. "We can't afford to throw money away like that, to take it out and just dump it into the street. These people are trying to get us to do their work for them, and we can't afford to. The best we can do is to provide for the passing of teams. We will improve a six foot strip on one side giving nine feet clear of the cars on that side, if that will be enough."

OFFER IS ACCEPTED.

The offer was so much better than any that has been made by the company so far that the council accepted it and the company agreed to file a new application containing the stipulation as to the improvement.

The application of the Oakland Traction Company for franchises in Clay, Market, Hopkins and Thirteenth streets, being one of the most important laid before the committee for some time, was not considered last night, but was referred to a special all meeting of the council committee, at which the entire council will be asked to take the matter up in committee of the whole.

POLICE ACCUSE BROKER OF ARSON

It Is Charged He Tried to Burn Building Because of Grievance.

Blaze Is Extinguished and the Old Man Is Placed Under Arrest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—His feelings wrought up from a sense of injury because he had been unable to obtain a coveted lease, Giovanni Ferrari, a real estate broker, 65 years old, according to the police charges, attempted to burn down a large apartment house containing almost one hundred persons at 2 o'clock this morning, and that a fire disaster did not result was due to the prompt actions of the police.

Ferrari lives at 170 Union street and he had been pursuing the alleged grievance for several days. This morning, as it chanced, Policemen Tracy and Welsh were standing on the corner and observed the aged man leave his home and go to the three-story building across the street. Thinking his actions peculiar, they followed closely, and they say they saw him apply a match to a pile of papers and rubbish.

MAN IS ARRESTED.

As soon as the pile was ablaze the two officers ran up, arrested the man, and extinguished the fire. Ferrari was then brought to the city prison and charged with attempted arson.

An investigation by Fire Marshal Trow later in the morning disclosed the fact that Ferrari had been extremely anxious to gain possession of the apartment house, but the owner had refused the property to another. His failure to get the coveted place had peaked upon his mind and led to his act. The building is in a crowded section of the city and if the flames had burned beyond many lives would probably have been endangered.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

That incendiaries are quite prevalent in the community at present is evidenced by the report this morning of the second attempt in two months to destroy the building at 156 Blake street, occupied by nine persons, including six children. This morning Officer McElchen received information that a fire had been kindled over the place and he looked into an adjoining flat and that an attempt had been made to burn down the premises. The rear rooms are occupied by Mrs. E. J. Wagoner and family, and the front by a Mrs. Kinney. The latter, according to information in the hands of the police, is suing her husband for divorce.

TRIED TWO MONTHS AGO.

Two months ago a similar attempt was made to burn down the structure. Shavings were piled in the rear drop of A. Barker, forty-seventh avenue and 11 streets, and an attempt made to set fire to the building some time last night, but the blaze smothered down and no great damage was done.

NEW THEATER FOR CANNED DRAMA IN BERKELEY

Post Charles Keeler Is Sponsor of Plan to Expurgate Moving Pictures.

ONLY HIGHBROW PLAYS
WILL BE PERMITTED

Concrete Edifice Being Built in College City As Temple of Tabloid Theatricals.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. — A moving picture theater fostered by a poet and dedicated to high art and moral uplift in screen exhibitions, is to be established in the college city. It will be the new drama world, what the New Theater is to the legitimate stage of New York.

Students and professors of the city schools and university, residents of the fashionable hill section and lovers of literature and travel, will be edited with drama by the poet, Post Charles Keeler's mother-in-law, Mrs. James S. Keeler, widow of the late Wells Fargo auditor, is to build on the north side of Center street, between Shattuck avenue and Oxford street, on the property now occupied by a frame structure bearing the numbers 2132 to 2136.

POET IS SPONSOR.

Post Keeler is one of the sponsors of the proposed new temple of tabloid theatricals, and R. Arvidson, an Alameda man, who has obtained a five-year lease of the playhouse, is dreaming of the classic and educational bills he is to present to the intellectual picture lovers of the university town. There will be no tomahawking by wild Indians; no sensational, sordid and criminal element in screen shows will be barred. Whether the promoter will go so far as to put on Greek dramas and compete with the outdoor theater, with its live actors, on the college campus, is not yet known, but something in the high-brow line is expected.

REINFORCED CONCRETE.

Work is to begin on the theater building, a reinforced concrete one-story structure, within a few weeks. The present building occupying the fifty-foot frontage is to be torn down. Plans for

Thugs Attempt to Rob Chinese in Broad Daylight

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. — Set upon by three thugs in one of the busiest sections of the city, Lee Yin, a Chinese merchant, saved his money at 2 o'clock this afternoon and by his prompt cry for aid was responsible for the capture of two of the culprits.

Lee left his place of business on Stockton street and went to the Canton Bank at Clay and Kearney streets, where he drew $250, which he carried in a sack. He was evidently followed by the trio of thugs, who crept up behind him at Montgomery and Washington streets

Fifteen Dynamite Sticks Shown to the Times Jury

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 4. — Fifteen sticks of 80 percent gelatine found in the infernal machine that failed to explode at the home of Secretary F. J. Schumacher of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association after the Times plant had been blown up October 1 were taken into the grand jury room today.

It was the finding of this bomb that placed the detection departments of two cities on the trail of Schmidt, Bryce and Caplan, the trio now being sought in connection with the destruction of the newspaper plant and twenty-one of its men.

The investigators subsequently switched the line of investigation today from San Francisco to the Los Angeles end.

MAN HIT BY AUTO HAS BROKEN WRIST AND LEG

Attempting to cross in front of an automobile at the corner of Twelfth and West streets, Sam Marshall, a liquor dealer at 782½ Fourteenth street, was knocked down and injured at about 10 o'clock last night.

He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the left wrist, a fracture of the leg above the left calf and several contusions on the face and head.

Marshall was under the influence of liquor.

The playhouse are being drawn by Architect Hudson Thomas.

The theater, which is to be furnished in substantial and modern style, is to occupy the rear of the building and will be reached by a foyer running between the two stories which are to be located on the front. The building is to be constructed so that other stories may be added.

ANNUAL BANQUET TO BE HELD IN NEW HOTEL

Hearty Co-operation On the Panama-Pacific Bonds
Is Promised.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. — C. C. Juster was by unanimous vote re-elected president of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting of the board of directors of that organization. In like manner E. J. Bither was re-elected vice president and Wells Curry, secretary.

The Berkeley National Bank was chosen as treasurer, in accordance with the rule which provides that the trusteeship shall be held alternately by the Berkeley National and the First National of Berkeley, which held custody of the funds last term.

By formal resolution it was ordered that arrangements be made for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at the new Hotel Shattuck early in December. The number of guests to be limited to 300 men, and members of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce shall have the first opportunity to take tickets. After these have been accommodated others will be accepted as guests. On the part of the management of the new hotel it is agreed that this shall be the first public event in the new hotel. The new directorate consists of the following representative citizens:

Arthur Arlett, H. D. Irwin, B. J. Bither, C. C. Juster, Frederick H. Clark, W. J. Mortimer, A. J. Copeland, Frank L. Taylor, A. C. Donogh, G. E. Ochsleite, B. F. Edwards, Fred W. Nicholas, W. A. Gates, Perry T. Tompkins, H. P. Goodman, E. C. Turner, G. A. Giesche, W. L. Woodward, E. T. Harris, W. E. Woolsey.

Responding to a communication from Mayor Hodghead, an invitation was extended to the League of California Municipalities to hold a convention in Berkeley in December, 1911.

A motion to induce the India Basin Act was discussed at length, and on the question being placed before the house the motion was defeated.

CO-OPERATE ON BONDS.

Hearty co-operation with the Progress and Prosperity committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce was resolved upon in the matter of promoting the bonds to sustain the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The following citizens were elected to membership: Chas. D. Heywood, R. R. Strange, Dr. H. E. McNair, G. R. Edgett.

H. E. Skinner, president of the Redwood Shingle Association, addressed the board in favor of using these shingles, in California in preference to cedar shingles made in Washington.

The invitation of the Pacific Coast Congress to appoint delegates to a convention to be held in San Francisco was accepted. This meeting will discuss Merchant Marine legislation, naval coast defense, Pacific coast expeditions, and permanent organization of this congress.

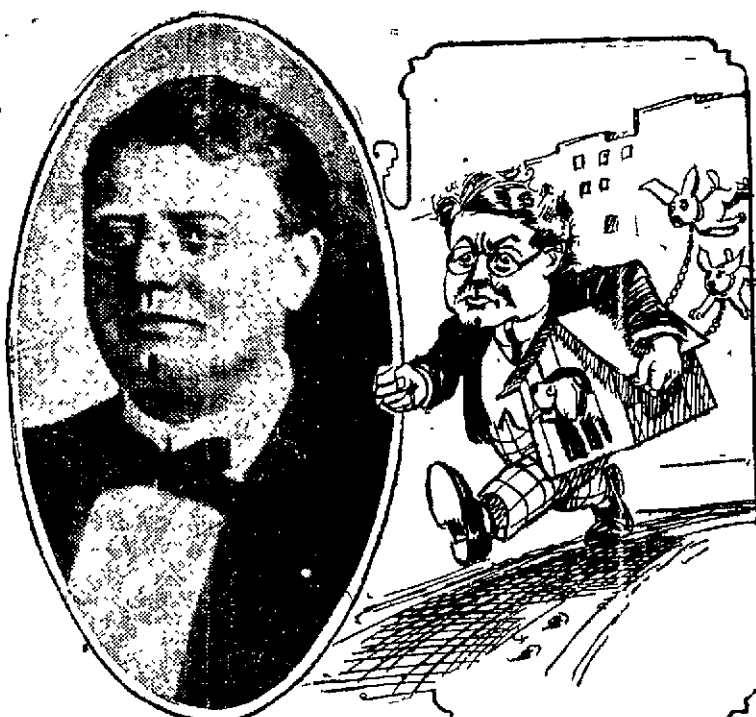

An invitation to appoint delegates to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress was received, and members who desire copies of this report may obtain same by addressing request to Geo. W. Booth, 135 William street, New York City, N. Y.

The offer of the Monterey Tree Growing Club, represented by H. A. Greer, to supply all trees necessary for re-foresting the islands of San Francisco bay was accepted, and the work will be pushed this winter as soon as the rains have softened the ground.

LOCATION OF NEW ALAMEDA POUND STARTS CONTROVERSY

DR. TOM CARPENTER, who is urging removal of Alameda pound.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4. — An available location for the Alameda pound is occupying the attention of Mayor W. H. Noy, the city council and Dr. Tom Carpenter. The latter suggested today that the pound be removed to a location on the marsh, instead of locating it on Bay Farm Island which would be inaccessible and inconvenient for the residents of the city.

Dr. Carpenter stated that the city owned a strip of land, which should be suitable for the pound on the north of the United Engineering works. It has been agreed that the pound, which is now located at the south end of Post street, must be removed, but the problem confronting the city of placing it in an unpopulated vicinity, and one accessible to the residents of Alameda.

In regard to the proposed removal, which is considered necessary on account of the growth of Post street, Dr. Tom Carpenter said today: "I do not consider the removal of the pound to Bay Farm Island advisable. It is out of the way and cannot be reached by car line. It is all right to talk about keeping a record of impounded dogs at the police station so that persons will not have to visit the pound, but this idea is not practical. The pound man would be unable to so describe all of the impounded dogs in order to make them recognizable to their owners."

"Visits to the pound are necessary, so it must be an accessible locality. The factory district on the marsh is the best place for the pound, and I think it would be advisable for the city to lease a piece of ground there, if its own property is not large enough."

The only drawback to locating the pound on the marsh is the fact that the poundmaster is obliged to live on or near the premises. Under the provisions of the charter, the city could lease a site for a period of ten years.

The present location of the pound is in the center of Post street. Loud protests have been voiced by the property owners and residents of the vicinity over the existing condition.

MANUAL TRAINING TO BE CONTINUED

Burning of Building Fails to Stop Study at Berkeley
State Asylum.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. — Work in the department of manual training in the California Institute for the Deaf and Blind will be continued within the next few days in spite of the fact that the building which housed the apparatus was destroyed by fire last Sunday night.

An equipment has been installed in the gymnasium for temporary use until the legislature shall have appropriated money for the construction of a new building.

The printing office and the department of chemistry have been discontinued for the present but the manual training work will go on as soon as possible, as it is considered of more importance to the institution.

FOUNDER OF BARACA UNIONS IS SPEAKER

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. — Marshall Hudson, founder and president of the world-wide Baraca Philanthropic Union, spoke last evening to the classes of the First Baptist church of Berkeley. Hudson is a business man of Berkeley, N. Y., on a tour of the Pacific states. He will speak to more than 400 Baraca Philanthropic classes during his trip on this coast. The speaking last evening was of a special nature, with music by the regular church choir.

Real Economy IN Piano Buying

The one real way to practice economy in piano buying is to buy a good piano—not necessarily a high-priced instrument, but one that has back of it a factory of high character, and by all means one that is sold by a house which has a financial and commercial standing beyond reproach, and which may be depended upon to protect the interests of each and every buyer.

Our house sells only good pianos—instrument that have for years been the standard of values in their respective classes and that have proven their worth by the one real test—time. No purely commercial piano is good enough for a place on our floors or for our customers. No piano of unknown parentage is offered here. Instead, we sell at the identical prices asked on the floors of their manufacturers in Boston, New York and Chicago, only such pianos as thirty-five years of piano-buying experience has convinced us are the best possible at the price asked. Therefore we know, and we can readily convince you, that you can buy more economically at any Allen store than elsewhere. A good piano at $195—one that has real quality—on cash payments, is being specialized this week. Our stock of elegant used pianos never has offered such inducements to careful buyers. Easy payments.

FAVOR POSTPONING FRANCHISE ACTION

Tri-city Rotary Club Members
Draft Resolution to Be Sent to Council.

The proposed railroad franchise to be given by the city of Oakland and amendment No. 1 of the state constitution were the topics for discussion at the Tri-City Rotary Club luncheon at the Key Route Inn yesterday afternoon. About fifty business men of Oakland were present and after listening to the objections to the railroad franchise it was decided that the city council to postpone action until further consideration could be given to the question.

Ross Morgan opened the subject of the franchise and expressed the belief that the city was giving the railroad more than it was receiving in return. He explained that the Seventh-street road was divided into three different franchises and stated that the railroad paid an amount which was equal to $150,000 per foot for the first franchise. At this average he stated that the present franchise ought to be worth at least $100,000. He suggested that all action on the franchise be postponed by the city council until after the new charter was in force and then that a franchise be granted which would be in accordance with that charter.

FORESEES DANGER.

"Los Angeles," said Morgan, "is working for the Panama canal because she believes that goods sent through the canal can be unloaded and shipped north via San Pedro. We want to be careful or they will be able to deliver goods cheaper than we can get them over our wharves."

If Montgomery attorney for the club, spoke at some length regarding the franchise. He thought that the railroad would get more than its share under the proposed charter and that it would be the means of keeping other roads out. He pointed out many alleged loopholes for the railroad while declaring that the city would be bound for the next fifty years.

The Southern Pacific is using only about one-third of its present road, said Montgomery. "It does not seem possible that they are going to spend millions to improve property for which they have no use."

The proposed franchise says that they shall have ninety days in which to start work, but there is nothing said about the completion of this work. There is no provision that they are going to fill in and turn over this mole to the city at the end of fifty years. The franchise should be so worded as to specify a time when work on the mole should be completed.

At the close of the discussion a resolution was adopted asking the city council to postpone action on the franchise until such time as it could be given further consideration. A committee consisting of A. H. Schluter, George C. Morgan, D. Aronson, O. S. Orrick and S. Samuels were appointed to go before the council and present the resolution.

FAVORS AMENDMENT

Prof. Carl C. Plahn spoke in favor of the state constitutional amendment No. 1 and gave many reasons why it should be passed. He stated that real property was being unjustly taxed at the present time while corporations and land owners were not paying their portion. He believed that the passage of amendment No. 1 would tend to equalize the state taxes as under the present system each assessor was anxious to save whatever he could for his constituents and referred to the investigation of the State Board of Equalization when it was found that Los Angeles had saved two and half millions in two years by the low valuation placed upon property by the assessor.

He stated that the banks were opposed to the amendment because the tax on banks had been raised four-tenths of 1 per cent. The tax on banks under the amendment will be 1 per cent of the book capital stock of the bank.

COSMOL FIRST

Referring to the report that the schools would be injured by the passage of the amendment, Professor Plahn declared that the schools had been looked after and would really be benefited by the amendment as the law now then read that the first money would go to the schools and the university and after this money had been set aside then other appropriations could be made.

SEEK BODY OF MAN DROWNED IN CANAL

PLACENTRO, Nov. 4.—A man named Anderson whose first name is unknown here aged about 35 supposedly of Los Angeles was believed to have been drowned in the main canal of Water Company No. 5 four miles from Holtville. Anderson's coat and hat were found on his foot in the open air near the canal and there were tracks leading to the water's edge but none returning. The water has been shut off from the canal and search is being made for the body.

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A NICE VACATION

Don't Do It By Starving It Either—
Let a Substitute Do the Work.

The old adage "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" applies just as well to the stomach, one of the most important organs of the human system as it does to the man himself. If you eat and do not work, your stomach will be worn out and rebel against being further taxed by the limit the only sensible thing you can do is to give it a rest. Employ a substitute for a short time and see if it will not more than repay you in results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a willing and most efficient substitute. They themselves digest every bit of food in the stomach in just the same way that the stomach itself would. They contain all the essential elements that the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach contain and actually act just the same and do just the same work as the natural fluids would do. They, therefore, relieve the stomach just as one workman relieves another, and permit it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength.

This "vacation" idea was suggested by the letter of a prominent lawyer in Chicago. Read what he says: "I was engaged in the most momentous undertaking of my life in bringing about the condition of certain great interests that meant much to me as well as my clients. It was not the work of days, but of months. I was very critical time my stomach went clear back on me. The undue mental strain brought it about and hurried up what would have happened later on."

What I ate I had to literally force down and that was a source of misery as I had a sour stomach much of the time. My head ached I was sluggish and began to lose my ambition to carry out my undertaking. It looked pretty gloomy for me and I confided my plight to one of my clients. He had been cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and at once went to a drug store and brought a box up to the office.

I had not taken a quarter of that box before I found that they would do the work my stomach ever did, and as a rest or vacation was out of the question for me I determined to give my stomach a vacation. I kept right on taking the tablets and braced up and went ahead with my work with renewed vigor, ate just as much as I ever did and carried out that undertaking to a successful issue. I feel that I have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to thank for saving me the handsome fee I ever received as well as my reputation and last but not least my stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box.

UNIONISTS PARADE IN LOS ANGELES

10,000 March in Line to Show
the Strength of Organized Labor.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—More than 10,000 union men and women appeared last night in a parade which was planned as a demonstration of union labor strength in Los Angeles. It was a silent, serious orderly affair. Over three miles of the main city streets the marchers marched and the 100 patrolmen scattered throughout the throng. Under the eyes of Chief Galloway and two captains, and nothing to do but keep step with the marchers and walk.

Great throngs lined the streets but any anticipation of rioting, in view of the situation since the recent dynamiting outrages were doctored to disappoint the men in the march in silence. One 500 member of the striking Brewery and Iron Workers unions in the van and only a few faint cheers, punctuated now and then by a wave of handclapping when some in the throng struck the faces of the crowd emanated from the dense files along the sidewalks. Bands leading each of the five divisions made tactically the only sound that came from the ranks of the parade. The men marched silently, rapidly, almost solemnly.

As one union of carpenters passed the times quarters on Spring street is marked cleared for J. S. Wilson, socialist candidate for governor and banners rose bearing the words, "We Vote as We Strike."

The Long Beach striking shipwrights were depicted as a banner on which was inscribed the question "When will it be finished?"

About 500 Socialists bearing a red flag beside the national colors made up one division. This was followed by another division consisting entirely of women trade unionists and members of the Union Labor League. There were about 500 of them in this section.

SATURDAY
NOV. 5TH
FOR
ONLY

We take in inventory November 30th, it being the quietest month in the year in our business and a general clean up of slow selling merchandise is the orders we are giving to take a week each for the different departments as we haven't got the space to put everything on sale at one time. Watch our windows for bargains.

THE FIRST WEEK we are going to clear up on CORSETS and WAISTS, as they are the largest stocks to clean up on and will take the longest.

WE are going to tell you about our WAISTS first, as we believe that every lady is interested in silk waists at this time of the year. In the first place we bought too many solid colors in black, blue, brown and gray in messaline and taffeta. We are going to offer them at one-half to one-half off the regular price.

Sale Prices $2.25, $2.75, $3.45
$3.75 to $5.00 Each

CORSETS We are greatly overstocked on a great many numbers, having so many makes so near alike in the popular priced goods. The damp weather causes them to turn yellow, and we must dispose of them as quickly as possible. They are all this year's styles low, medium and high busts, with long hips, white only, sizes 18 to 30. Regular value $1.50 to $2.00 per pair.

SHOW PROSPERITY BY PAYING TAXES

Small Property Owners Meeting Municipal Bills Promptly Says Collector.

With ten men working overtime in the office of Tax Collector Edwin Meese, and only two weeks in which to receive the first installment of municipal taxes, the collector is a possibility that those who do not visit the office early may be crowded over into the delinquent list. Taxes have been coming in fast for the last few days, but there is a large balance and the tax collector fears that if many delay till the last few days there will not be time to handle the number of people who come to pay the money to the city.

The tax collector's office has been moved from its former quarters on the first floor of the old city hall to a store room at the corner of Fifteenth and Clay streets. The long counters are thronged from morning to night with taxpayers, bill in hand, paying off their installment.

That the condition of Oakland property owners is especially prosperous is indicated, according to Tax Collector Meese, by the fact that many of the small property owners are paying up both first and second installments now instead of waiting as is usual, till later.

The revenue of the city from taxes this year will be larger than ever before and but little complaint is being heard concerning the raise in the tax rate.

YOUNG SHERLOCK SOLVES MYSTERY

Finds That Marble and Not a Bullet Punctured High School Door.

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—After a week of strenuous detective work by high school investigators and the police detective in charge, the mystery of the alleged firing of a 22-caliber rifle bullet through the glass door of the Berkeley High school class building, has been cleared up. A boy detective in one of the lower classes was the one who worked it all out and "put one over" on City Hall Sherlock Holmes' department and the high school detectives.

He took no stock in the bullet theory from the first, and began looking about the hallway for a more harmless missile. He found it and it proved to be a marble about the size of a 25 cartridge.

The boy then remembered that there had been a good-natured contest between some of his fellows a week ago and that some marbles were thrown.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS IN EVERY OLD CLIME

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 4.—"The world may change and things seem strange, but boys will always be boys." The foregoing lines were whispered into the ears of Marshall M. Gleason of San Leandro Wednesday night, by one of the seventeen boys that he had arrested on the charge of breaking gates and fences belonging to the residents of Broadmoor last Halloween night. So tickled was the stern link of the law in San Leandro at hearing this that he let the boys off with but a pair $3 fine for each.

BERKELEY POLICEMAN WEDS IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—Clarence Sherwood Morrill, a member of the Berkeley police force, and the son of Erich Morrill, a miner of Reno Nevada was united in marriage yesterday to Miss Evelyn Edna Davidson of Oakland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Mears at the parsonage of the First Congregational Church. The mother of the bride was in attendance and several intimate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

The father of the bridegroom is a well known Nevada. Mr. and Mrs. Morrill will live in Berkeley after a honeymoon trip.

Getting Down to Brass Tacks

Some Facts About State Constitutional Amendment No. 1 Which Will Enable the Voter to Form a Just Opinion About Its Merits and Demerits

The radical, drastic changes that State Amendment No. 1, to be voted on November 8th, makes in our present tax system, would injuriously affect our economic, financial, industrial and labor conditions and, perhaps the most important of all, throw the entire school system of the State into the kettle of politics. Any one of these is sufficient in itself to make the voter pause. Taken together they so affect the body politic that this amendment is quite the most important piece of prospective legislation put before the people of California for many years.

Before you vote on this momentous question think, sift, analyze and most of all LEARN THE FACTS.

Law Not Observed

(1) Although there is a provision in our State law that every amendment should be submitted to the voter with a favoring and a negative argument attached to it, THE NEGATIVE ARGUMENT WAS IN THIS CASE OMITTED AND THE VOTER HAS ONLY RECEIVED ONE SIDE OF THE QUESTION.

The Schools in Politics

(2) State Constitutional Amendment, Section 14, E, abrogates the present fixed State income for the schools. If you vote yes for this amendment you make the schools and the University of California dependent upon the compromises and the log-rolling methods that go to make up the General Appropriation Bill in each legislature. It means politics, pernicious politics—for every public school and for every public school teacher in the State.

Inaccuracies in Report

(3) Inaccuracies in the report of the Tax Commission show that insufficient revenues would be secured to defray the expenses of State government and that recourse to the present ad valorem system of taxation, which the new law seeks to avoid, will be necessary.

Inflexible Rates

(4) According to its terms inflexible rates of taxation are fixed, making it almost impossible to raise the rates on public service corporations, should it be found necessary to do so.

Raises Rate of Interest

(5) Constitutional Amendment No. 1, by placing a tax on bank capital stock, surplus and revenues, will tempt the banks to reduce their capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to avoid payment of a large tax. These restrictions will lessen the supply of cheap money and raise the rate of interest.

Affects Our Prosperity

(6) The thing that we here in California need most is Cheap Money—money to run our stores, to operate our factories, to develop our electrical inter-communicating systems between our fast growing cities, our reclamation, irrigat on and farming projects. Development along these lines means prosperity—PROSPERITY TO THE MANUFACTURER, PROSPERITY TO THE MERCHANT AND PROSPERITY TO THE WAGE EARNER.

It's well worth your while to ponder before substituting a new system so dangerous and revolutionary in its effects as State Amendment No. 1. Think before you vote.

SHOTGUN BRIGADE TO WAIT FOR BURGLARS

KENNETT, Nov. 4.—Following a systematic series of burglaries by which a score of residences were robbed, some places being visited twice by the thieves and money and valuables stolen, citizens of Kennett have armed themselves with shotguns and agreed to defend their homes against the robbers.

The most recent burglaries were committed at the home of Edward Eyer where $87.50 was taken. At the home of John Williams $27 and a diamond ring and other jewelry, to the amount of $100 were taken.

Added to the more serious burglaries which have occurred are thefts of household articles and riding of cellars several hundred dollars' worth of canned fruits have been taken from various places while chicken coops and stoves have been stolen. An informal organization has been effected among the citizens and it is the intention to use it to the acts of lawlessness. The police have been unable to gain any law to the burglars.

A Safe, Quick Way to Clean Silver (Recommended by the Gold Dust Twin)

Instead of scouring and rubbing each piece of silver after each meal, put the silver in a separate tin by itself; cover with lukewarm water, to which a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder has been added. Set the pan on the range until the water gets to boiling point; lift the silver out, wipe each piece with a soft linen cloth and polish with a chamouis skin. Silver that is seldom used should be wrapped in Canton flannel.

CHAUFFEUR SEEKS HIS MISSING WIFE

J. B. Simms Says Furniture Also Vanished and Blames Woman's Friends.

J. B. Simms, a chauffeur, who was deserted by his wife, Clara about a month ago is very much worried about her disappearance and is anxious of learning her whereabouts. He has been left in his apartments 1111 Jefferson street without furniture and asserts that if he discovers the whereabouts of the household belongings he will find his wife, who, Simms alleges, gave the furniture to one of her friends.

The friends of Simms are assisting him in his search for the furniture, which was removed from the house the same day Mrs. Simms left.

Simms said this morning that he had provided his wife with means while she was in Providence Hospital and that soon after she recovered she disappeared.

BLAMES HER FRIENDS.

"My wife was influenced by her friends," said Simms, "whom I believe to be of undesirable character. I think that as soon as I gain a clue to the furniture that was taken from the house I will find her and I will ask her to return home."

During the last year she has left me a number of times but has always returned and I hope she will do the same again. I am very fond of her and for thirteen years we have lived together and with the exception of recent trouble we have been happy. I have always shared my earnings with her."

KNIGHTS OF GRIP TO HOLD WHIST PARTY

Oakland Council No. 894 of the United Commercial Travelers of America will hold a prize whist tournament at their headquarters Pythian Castle Twelfth and Alce streets, tomorrow evening.

The committee in charge, headed by J. C. Koerber, chairman has left nothing undone to make the affair a huge success. In connection with the prize awards there will be a few door prizes so as to give every one a chance. Refreshments will be served and a brief program will follow the games.

Professor "Jim" McGowan will demonstrate the art of card playing which has been the hit of the council for months called "Kl Kl," a game that is often played in the wilds of Mexico.

The committee in charge consists of J. McGowan, president, "Pat" Larue, secretary.

CLYDE FITCH'S 'THE CITY' IS BEST OF ALL HIS WORK

SUZANNE WILLA, as Cicely Rand in "The City."

Clyde Fitch's last play, "The City," which will be presented by the Messrs. Schubert for the first time here at the Macdonough Theater on Monday and Tuesday, November 7 and 8, is a vital, absorbing drama showing the effects of metropolitan life on an ambitious and prosperous family who have moved to New York City from a small, up-state town. Furthermore, it is a defense of the city so dearly loved and so admirably interpreted by Fitch as the crucible in which the essential good and bad qualities of men and women are more thoroughly brought to the surface; the place too fraught with life and activity to tolerate the sequestered and small hypocrisies which man flourishes in lesser localities.

The most exact idea of the theme and the sentiment of "The City" is to be found in the dramatic and explanatory speech of the central character, George Rand, Jr., in the last act of the play. This outburst is called forth by the wells and lamentations of the other people in the play who seek to blame the city rather than themselves for the various catastrophes with which they have been overwhelmed.

"No, you're all wrong," declares the young man, on whom the brunt of retributive justice has fallen heavily. "Do not blame the city. It's not her fault. It's your own! What the city does is to bring out what's strongest in us. If at heart we are good, the good in us will win. If bad, God help us! Do not blame the city! She gave us an opportunity; it is up to him what he makes of it!"

The capable, well-balanced cast comprises Norman Hackett, Geoffrey C. Stein, M. H. Harrison, Josephine Florence Shepherd, Ethel Martin, Suzanne Willa, Doris Booth, Wendell Lowery, Arthur S. Hull, Marie Majaroni and others. The play comes direct from a year's run at the Lyric Theater New York City, and this is its first production in this city. Special matinee Tuesday, 2 o'clock day.

TRACTION COMPANY GETS ULTIMATUM

Hayward Trustee Threaten to Revoke Franchise if Roadway Is Not Repaired.

HAYWARD, Nov. 4.—At the regular meeting of the Hayward Board of Trustees last night, Superintendent of Streets Shilling was instructed to see that all obstructions were removed from the streets within thirty days and that unless the strip of land between the tracks of the Oakland Traction Company's B street line be repaired their franchise be declared revoked.

Upon reading between the lines of the first order, it is possible to discern an unwritten order for the company which, ever since the establishment of the horsecar line on one of the main streets of the town, has been leaving the vehicle stand in the street all right.

The Board of Trustees had asked the company to repair its tracks many times and has received no reply.

It has been stated on good authority that the traction people have been holding back from paving this strip on account of the proposed trolley line which they intend to install in the near future.

AEROPLANE TO CARRY MAIL FROM STEAMER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Official sanction was given yesterday by the government for the transmission of United States mail by aeroplane, for the first time in history. Permission was granted by Postmaster-General Hittorff for J. A. D. McGurdy to carry mail in this manner from the outgoing transatlantic liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to New York next Saturday, when that vessel is fifty miles at sea.

The pouch which he will take will contain letters from passengers. The only condition imposed by the postmaster-general is that writers shall have notice that the mail is to be carried by aeroplane.

In imposing this condition the government is relieved of all responsibility in case the letters are lost while in transit.

NOME FLOODED BY MONSTER OCEAN WAVES

ALASKA CITY SUFFERS BIG DAMAGE

Two Houses and Fifteen Cabins Swept Away, But No Loss of Life.

Vessels in Winter Quarters Are Washed Far Inland; Provisions Soaked.

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 4.—A tremendous surf, believed to have been caused by terrific volcanic action in the floor of the Bering sea, swept the coast late yesterday, driving across the Nome sandpit and flooding the city. Two houses and fifteen cabins were lost, great damage was done to shipping, and thousands of dollars worth of provisions were swept out to sea.

There was no loss of life, but the ninety dwellers on the stands at the harbor escaped in getting to safety. Late last night the flood reached its crest and is now rapidly subsiding.

The "home" Mary Sachs was pined up from her mooring by the mighty rush of water and was deposited in a split dwellers' yard. All the other boats hid up for the winter were swept far up in the beach by the waves.

CELLARS FLOODING

The cellars in the stores on Front street are full of water and the stores are being flooded. It was only by piling sandbags about the warehouse of the Pacific Cold Storage company that the men were able to prevent the building from being completely ruined. Evidence is being gathered by the business community in the water-soaked provisions to use for the winter's supply. The homeless are being cared for by their friends.

The unusual marine disturbance was not accompanied by any wind and it is generally believed that the rush of water was due to a tidal wave caused by volcanic or seismic disturbance.

For several months Mount Bogoslof and Mount Shishaldin, near Taimak Pass, have been spouting fire and lava at short intervals and the Bering sea has been undergoing peculiar convulsions.

Reports are anxiously awaited from other points along the coast.

LARGE POPULATION.

Nome, the pioneer placer camp on the Seward peninsula, was built on the sandy beach of Bering sea. The main part of the town, which ten years ago had a population estimated at 20,000, is on the east side of the Snake river with a long finger extending to the west along a narrow sandpit. This sandpit was rich in gold dust, and the early prospectors built their cabins there.

The houses that were in the north, the tip in the Snake river, were a slight shelter afforded by the narrow strip of sand. In recent years the Nome sands have been worked out to such an extent that it is no longer possible for pick and shovel men to make their fortunes in the diggings. Although large dredges are operated at tremendous profit.

With the giving out of the "poor man's diggings" there has been a

BRIDE FULFILLS PLEDGE TO MARRY 'CONNIE MACK' IF HE WON PENNANT

MRS. CORNELIUS MCGILICUDDY, who fulfilled pledge to wed "Connie" Mack if Athletics won world's baseball championship.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Cornelius McGillicuddy, or as she will in future be more familiarly known, the bride of "Connie" Mack, the famous manager of the Athletics, who won the first world's series from Chicago, has, in becoming the bride of the noted baseball player, honored the word of Hallahan.

While the popular bride was still Miss Katherine Hallahan, of 211 North Thirty-ninth street, she was, as she now is, an enthusiastic baseball fan and she agreed to become the bride of Connie Mack only upon the condition that the Athletics won the world's championship. With such a prize in view, Connie said it was "easy," and with the assistance of his players, he made good his word, after which there was nothing for Mrs. Mack to do but surrender, the wedding taking place on October 27. In the Church of Our Lady of Holy Souls, in the Quaker city.

What Miss Hallahan would have done in the event of the Athletics being defeated is open to conjecture, for when the question is put to her she laughingly evades it.

Farewell Tour of Noted English Tragedienne

MANY NOTABLES GREET ELLEN TERRY

President Taft and Wife, and Literary People Welcome Actress.

Kidnaped Nebraskan Girl Is Brutally Treated by Mexican Bandit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—President and Mrs. Taft, Mayor and Mrs. Gaynor, J. P. Morgan, E. H. Gary, president of the United States Steel Corporation, William Dean Howells, the author, and 600 other friends of Ellen Terry, united in surprising her yesterday afternoon with a "book of welcome," bound in gold and vellum, and signed with their names.

Miss Terry arrived here from Chicago. When she stepped to the platform of the Hudson Theater to deliver her lecture on "Shakespeare's Heroines: Triumphant," the audience rose and cheered for five minutes. Tears of gratitude came to her eyes.

Just as she was to leave the stage, Kate Douglas Wiggin, the authoress, stepped forward, carrying the book of welcome, and read a notice of her own to the signature, closing with a quotation from one of Miss Terry's famous roles:

"Since that star descended under which you were born until this present moment, dear Ellen Terry, each of us could have said, as Portia in Bassanio: 'One-half of me is yours, the other half yours, and so all's yours.'"

Percy Mackay, poet and playwright, read a sonnet.

Miss Terry seemed in as good voice and as fresh and winsome as twenty years ago, although she is now sixty-two years old.

It was rumored that this was to be the farewell tour of the actress to the United States, but Miss Terry emphatically denies.

"Although I am 62 years old," she said, "I hope to make the trip to these hospitable shores many, many times. I never have been accorded a more cordial reception than right here in these 'Sunny United States, and it would grieve me more than I can tell if I thought this would be my last visit here."

Success usually manages to dodge a man who is afraid of being a little more than his share.

ELLEN TERRY, noted actress, who has charmed theatergoers for more than a quarter of a century.

MURDERER IS CAUGHT IN WILDS

Captured in Mountains After Exciting Man Hunt Lasting Twenty Hours.

Slayer Falls in the Hands of Sheriff's Deputies After Exciting Chase.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—An exciting man hunt on the rugged slopes of the Cascades was brought to an abrupt end last night when Augustus Bianchi, 34 years old, an Italian, who shot and mortally wounded James Buzell, 35 years old, a fellow countryman, during a quarrel in the streets of North Bend, Wednesday night, was arrested on the railroad tracks near Falls City by Deputy Sheriff Scott.

SLAYER IS EXHAUSTED.

Bianchi had been in the woods more than twenty hours and had traveled about ten miles through a wild country without food or blankets, and was completely exhausted when captured.

When the report of the shooting reached Seattle Sheriff Robert T. Hodge, with five deputies, drove to Falls City in an automobile, arriving there early yesterday morning.

SEARCH IS SUCCESSFUL.

Hodge placed his men at the Italian camps while a number of special deputies and woodsmen searched the mountain sides. Bianchi still had his revolver and was attempting to reach Snoqualmie Falls when apprehended.

Buzell was shot when he attempted to act as peacemaker between Bianchi and another Italian who were quarrelling.

Miss Camille Stromack of the Rees Conservatory of Music will render a number of vocal selections.

Ticktack Causes Tot's Death

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—A half-severely bitten by a dog with which he was playing, he was apparently well on the road to recovery, however, when the "tick-tack" on the window, the parents say, threw the boy into convulsions from which he died.

The perpetrators of the Halloween prank are not known.

VITAL STATISTICS FOR SEPTEMBER

Marriages Greatly Increased As Well As the Births in State.

The advance sheets of the bulletin of the California Board of Health show that this state is among other things an enemy of vice suicide. The marriages and births for the month of September are far in excess of the previous month but the death rate was the same.

The bulletin follows: Marriages.—The marriages reported for September number 2223 as compared with 2083 for the same month last year. For an estimated state population of 2,066,190 in 1910, the September total represents an annual rate of 12.2 per 1000 inhabitants, against 12.1 for August.

The monthly totals were highest for the following counties: Los Angeles, 549; San Francisco, 513; Alameda, 530; Santa Clara, 103; Sacramento, 100; San Diego, 82; San Bernardino, 75; Fresno, 75, and Orange, 58.

Births.—The births reported for September number 2766 as compared with 2766 for the same month last year. The corresponding total for the same month the year before was 2710.

For Rheumatism and Nervousness—No Cure, No Pay

Facts About Rheumatism

Rheumatism is caused, directly from poor circulation, but primarily from an excess of uric acid in the system. Too much uric acid irritates muscular tissues, weakens nerves and retards circulation. The result is Rheumatism, Nervousness, Kidney or Liver troubles, Neuralgia or some kindred complaint. These troubles can be cured and avoided only by eliminating the excess uric acid from the system. Electropodes will do it.

Facts About Electropodes

Electropodes are the galvanic electrodes, which radiate strength and vigor to every part of the body. They remove all poisons and impurities from the entire system, strengthen tissues, invigorate nerves, promote circulation and aid each organ to do its work promptly and properly. Results are wonderful.

One man writes from Lincoln, Neb.: "My mother had rheumatism so bad she was unable to get out of bed without aid. This is the second pair of Electropodes, and she is now able to do her own housework."

Los Angeles man writes: "An auditor by profession I was in a deplorably nervous condition and suffered from cold feet and rheumatism in my lower limbs. Electropodes cured me. I would not be without them."

Cottolene

Comes from the Land of Sunshine

The very source of Cottolene inspires confidence in the product. It is pure. It comes from the cottonfields of the Sunny South and from cottonfield to kitchen human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made.

Being a vegetable product, Cottolene is pure—and just as digestible as the purest olive oil. You can never be sure of this when you use lard, which is simply hog fat—an animal product.

Cottolene is immeasurably superior to lard from a health standpoint. It makes pure, digestible, nourishing food, and food which any stomach can digest.

The careful, once-posted housewife will use Cottolene in place of lard every time.
